CHAIRMAN BRINNIER'S PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Ulster County:

Ulster county must raise her quota of $1,400,000. You men and women who are able to pledge $1,000 should do so and you who are able to pledge $500 should do so and each and every one should loan to the government to the extent of their ability. Those who have only pledged for a few stamps should sign another pledge for more. Do not let us fail. The voices of our boys now under the demand that you furnish them arms, ammunition and supplies, that our country and the whole world may be freed from any domination or attempted domination of the Imperial Government of Germany. uggested back in April that the congregation sell thrift and war savings stamps and turn them over for a new school and hall. You see we are gathering money for a new parish house and at the same time we are placing our money in stamps which can be cashed in on January 1, 1923, about the time we will need all this money to clean up payments on our building. We will build a large school room and a hall that will seat about 600. In the basement we will have a gymnasium and bowling alley. This in effect means that we are putting our money in what amounts to a sinking fund. This also appeals to those who are solicited by the workers we have been sending out who are all from our church. Those who subscribed with us are helping support the government and giving a worthy cause at home their support.

"We had twenty workers who went out in teams. I myself was their captain. H. W. Gronemeyer is the secretary-treasurer. The teams are all young people, the following:

Ed. Wiedemann, Helen Tietjen, Elizabeth Henkel, William Wendland, George Wiedemann, Fred Studt, Jr., Carl Thiel, Tillie Heppner, William Buddenhagen, Jennie Buddenhagen, George Bode, Al. Studt, Waldorf Dunnemann, Minnie Tietjen, Harry Buddenhagen, Dorothy Koch, Harry Hahn, Anna Schroeder, Helen Zabel, Rose Hahn.

"Our instructions to the teams were, go out and get it. We had districts and two worked together in each district. We were conducting two drives simultaneously. In one we collected $300 for the mission treasury of the Atlantic district of our synod. In February we raised $487 in the Lutheran drive for soldiers' and sailors' welfare. Members of our church have taken $7,000,000 in Liberty Bonds.

"We started this W. S. S. drive of our own on Saturday and finished it in three days. We obtained 149 pledges and the amount of $4,010."

The subscribers to the W. S. S. fund obtained in the drive of three days by the Immanuel Evangelical Church are as follows:

The Sick and Aid Society	$1,000 00
The Ladies' Aid Society	120 00
The Young People's Society	120 00
The Friendly club of twelve girls of about 15 years of age	100 00
The Young Men's Society	30 00
The Building Fund Committee	30 00

The balance of the subscriptions raised by the church teams came from individuals.

There are many volunteer workers whose returns come in unsolicited and are justly appreciated for it shows a highly patriotic spirit. One of these reports came from down in the brickmaking district. Nobody at headquarters knows Paul Caban but he was cheered when his voluntary work was reported. At Goldrick's Landing he had collected 13 pledges, giving an aggregate of $450, which is regarded as a highly meritorious performance and a large average of money pledged for that district.

The Herbert Brush Manufacturing Company's Mill street factory was organized yesterday by Benjamin Weisburger, who was well received. Messrs. Herbert gave him effective assistance and the factory was nearly one hundred per cent enrolled. Every member pledged for more than the per capita amount, five stamps at the maturity value of five dollars. Joseph F. Hartman was named president and David Fitzgerald secretary.

The One Thousand Dollar Limit Club received the following recruits with pledges:

Jacob J. Rice and wife.
Grace Young for infant son.

County Chairman W. D. Brinnier is persistent in getting to Kingston the aeroplane spectacle which after the promise made to send one here was suddenly called off by the aviator at Mineola, L. I., in a dispatch received by Mr. Brinnier Wednesday. Mr. Brinnier at once wired a reply, insisting that if it were possible the event should be put on. The reply he received speaks for itself. So the public knows as much about it as Mr. Brinnier. Here is the telegram:

Mineola, L. I., N. Y.,
5:28 p. m., June 26, 1918.

Wm. D. Brinnier, Kingston, N. Y., Ulster Co.

In view of great distance between Kingston and Mineola the feasibility of sending a plane will depend entirely upon weather conditions. Period plane will be sent on day weather permits. CANADY.

Here is the W. S. S. drive song which tells just what the public is to expect the W. S. S. investments to do:

Chorus.

We'll lick the kaiser if it takes us twenty years.
We'll lick the kaiser tho' it be through pain and tears;
There's a call for us to fight, and we know we're in the right;
There is nothing that can stop us now we're in.
We'll get you William, if it takes us to Berlin.
Your bloom-min propaganda! It can never, never win.
We will treat our captives well, but we'll fight like fiends in hell.
And we'll lick him if it takes ten thousand years.

TWENTY-SIX MEN ENTRAIN JULY 1

For Government Schools to Receive Mechanical Training — Some of These Men Will be Drafted—Chance for Seven Men Under Special Call to Volunteer.

Local boards for Divisions 1 and 2 of Ulster county will have to furnish a total of 18 men under Call 737 for entrainment from Kingston Monday, July 1, for Buffalo, where they will receive a course in mechanical training at the Buffalo Technical High School. Board 1 will have to furnish 12 men; board 2 will have to provide 8 men.

Board 1 has accepted 5 men under this call, and if 7 more men will volunteer, the board will not have to draft the balance. Because of the short notice and the large territory of board 2, this board will have to draft the 8 men called for, taking them eligible for the occupations listed under the call. The men will be drafted in the sequence of their order numbers.

Grammar school graduates with some mechanical experience (white men in Class 1 eligible for general military service) are the ones wanted under this call. The draft call under the special calls is made necessary because a sufficient number of volunteers did not present themselves to fill these calls.

Those men who wish to volunteer (men in the district of Board 1) must apply to the board before late tomorrow afternoon, for after that time the board will have to draft the balance of the men ordered under the call.

Board 1 will also send 6 men from Kingston July 1 to various government schools, for a course in mechanical training. These men have been accepted under special calls. The men who are to entrain and the places to which they have been assigned are as follows

Edwin J. Cusack, of 199 Main street, goes to Yonkers, as plumber.

Edward A. Reiss, who boards at the Y. M. C. A., goes to New York city, as automobile mechanic.

Thomas Leach, of 47 Brewster street, goes to Jersey City, as carpenter.

The following will go to the Troy High School as automobile mechanics:

Jacob A. Hommel, 13 Elmendorf street.

William F. Donovan, 578 Delaware avenue.

John Donaldson, 136 West Pierpont street.

Change of Time of Red Cross Class.

The Red Cross class in elementary hygiene and home nursing, Miss Webb of Port Ewen, president, will hereafter meet in the evening instead of afternoon, the time in future being 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday and Friday evenings. This class will continue to meet at the Kingston City Hospital.

Marshall Field, some years ago, said: "Careful saving and careful spending invariably promote success. Economy is one of the most essential elements of success, yet most wretchedly disregarded. The 5 or 10 cents squandered a day, if saved, will in a few years amount to thousands of dollars. If a man is not competent to manage a small income or a small business, he is not competent to manage a large income or a large business."

SECOND DRAFT LOTTERY DRAWING TOOK PLACE THIS MORNING

Without a Hitch the 1200 Numbers That Determine the Order in Which New Registrants Will Be Called Were Drawn---The Numbers That Apply To Ulster County Districts.

America's second great draft lottery, fixing the order of liability to military service of all young men who have become 21 since June 5, 1917, was completed in record time without a hitch in the senate office building today.

The drawing, which began with Secretary Baker drawing No. 246 at 9:36 o'clock, was finished at 11:40. During the two hours and four minutes taken up with the drawing 1,200 capsules containing the order numbers were drawn from the glass globe.

The second number was drawn by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee: the third by Representative Dent, chairman of the house military affairs committee. They were followed by Senator Warren, Representative Kahn, General March and General Crowder, each of whom drew one capsule.

The drawing from there was taken up by "Major Billy" Wellborn, girl assistant to General Crowder, who continued the drawing until the last capsule, containing number 225, was taken from the bowl.

None of the delay accompanying the first lottery was in evidence today. Lessons then learned were put to good use in the second lottery.

General Crowder prefaced the drawing with a few sentences explaining the purpose of the lottery, but Secretary Baker stepped forward and was blindfolded to draw the first number without a word. The only delay was that occasioned by the taking of official pictures by khaki-clad photographers.

The numbers applicable to Ulster county were as follows, the order in which the number was drawn appearing first, followed by the serial number drawn:

250,000 MARK REACHED IN W. S. S. SUBSCRIPTIONS

Workers More Cheerful as They Find They are Making Better Progress in the Campaign to Induce Ulster County Folks to do Their Share Once More.

CHAIRMAN BRINNIER'S PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Ulster County:

Ulster county must raise her quota of $1,400,000. You men and women who are able to pledge $1,000 should do so and you who are able to pledge $500 should do so and each and every one should loan to the government to the extent of their ability. Those who have only pledged for a few stamps should sign another pledge for more. Do not let us fail. The voices of our boys now under the demand that you furnish them arms, ammunition and supplies, that our country and the whole world may be freed from any domination or attempted domination of the Imperial Government of Germany. Increase your pledges at once.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM D. BRINNIER,
Chairman, Ulster County W. S. S. Committee.

"The speaking of the evening was ...ghly optimistic. It couldn't ... been anything else. County ...man W. D. Brinnier gave the ...mbly a classic in helping the ...rnment to lick the Kaiser. "Rev. Frederick T. Schroeder, ...r of Immanuel Evangelical Lu... Church on Livingston street, ...a most interesting account of ...ew Idea he has worked out in ... church societies may prove ...patriotism, help the government ...obtain a large assistance for ...selves. He was greeted with ... enthusiasm. His remarks ob... very close attention. It was ...s that he told which excited ... admiration.

"It was suggested back in April that the congregation sell thrift and war savings stamps and turn them over for a new school and hall. You see we are gathering money for a new parish house and at the same time we are placing our money in stamps which can be cashed in on January 1, 1923, about the time we will need all this money to clean up payments on our building. We will build a large school room and a hall that will seat about 600. In the basement we will have a gymnasium and bowling alley. This in effect means that we are putting our money in what amounts to a sinking fund. This also appeals to those who are solicited by the workers we have been sending out who are all from our church. Those who subscribed with us are helping support the government and giving a worthy cause at home their support.

"We had twenty workers who went out in teams. I myself was their captain. H. W. Gronemeyer is the secretary-treasurer. The teams are all young people, the following:

Ed. Wiedemann, Helen Tietjen, Elizabeth Henkel, William Wendland, George Wiedemann, Fred Studt, Jr., Carl Thiel, Tillie Heppner, William Buddenhagen, Jennie Buddenhagen, George Bode, Al. Studt, Waldorf Dunnemann, Minnie Tietjen, Harry Buddenhagen, Dorothy Koch, Harry Hahn, Anna Schroeder, Helen Zabel, Rose Hahn.

"Our instructions to the teams were, go out and get it. We had districts and two worked together in each district. We were conducting two drives simultaneously. In one we collected $300 for the mission treasury of the Atlantic district of our synod. In February we raised $487 in the Lutheran drive for soldiers' and sailors' welfare. Members of our church have taken $7,000,000 in Liberty Bonds.

"We started this W. S. S. drive of our own on Saturday and finished it in three days. We obtained 149 pledges and the amount of $4,010."

The subscribers to the W. S. S. fund obtained in the drive or three days by the Immanuel Evangelical Church are as follows:

The Sick and Aid Society	$1,000 00
The Ladies' Aid Society	120 00
The Young People's Society	120 00
The Friendly club of twelve girls of about 15 years of age	100 00
The Young Men's Society	30 00
The Building Fund Committee	30 00

The balance of the subscriptions raised by the church teams came from individuals.

The reports by teams given out in detail began and ended with the wards and W. S. S. Societies in the city. Here they are, giving number of pledges and amounts reported:

1st ward, 13	$21,925 00

There are many volunteer workers whose returns come in unsolicited and are justly appreciated for it shows a highly patriotic spirit. One of these reports came from down in the brickmaking district. Nobody at headquarters knows Paul Caban but he was cheered when his voluntary work was reported. At Goldrick's Landing he had collected 13 pledges, giving an aggregate of $450, which is regarded as a highly meritorious performance and a large average of money pledged for that district.

The Herbert Brush Manufacturing Company's Mill street factory was organized yesterday by Benjamin Weisburger, who was well received. Messrs. Herbert gave him effective assistance and the factory was nearly one hundred per cent enrolled. Every member pledged for more than the per capita amount, five stamps at the maturity value of five dollars. Joseph F. Hartman was named president and David Fitzgerald secretary.

The One Thousand Dollar Limit Club received the following recruits with pledges:

Jacob J. Rice and wife.
Grace Young for infant son.
Herbert Brush Co.
John F. Herbert.
Joseph M. Herbert.
Alfred A. Herbert.
John F. Herbert, Jr.

County Chairman W. D. Brinnier is persistent in getting to Kingston the aeroplane spectacle which after the promise made to send one here was suddenly called off by the aviator at Mineola, L. I., in a dispatch received by Mr. Brinnier Wednesday. Mr. Brinnier at once wired a reply, insisting that if it were possible the event should be put on. The reply he received speaks for itself. So the public knows as much about it as Mr. Brinnier. Here is the telegram:

Mineola, L. I., N. Y.,
5:28 p. m., June 26, 1918.

Wm. D. Brinnier, Kingston, N. Y.,
Ulster Co.

In view of great distance between Kingston and Mineola the feasibility of sending a plane will depend entirely upon weather conditions. Period plane will be sent on day weather permits. CANADY.

Here is the W. S. S. drive song which tells just what the public is to expect the W. S. S. investments to do:

Chorus.

We'll lick the kaiser if it takes us twenty years.
We'll lick the kaiser tho' it be through pain and tears:
There's a call for us to fight, and we know we're in the right:
There is nothing that can stop us now we're in.
We'll get you William, if it takes us to Berlin.
Your bloom-min propaganda! It can never, never win.
We will treat our captives well, but we'll fight like fiends in hell.
And we'll lick him if it takes ten thousand years.

Change of Time of Red Cross Class.

The Red Cross class in elementary hygiene and home nursing, Miss Webb of Port Ewen, president, will hereafter meet in the evening instead of afternoon, the time in future being 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday and Friday evenings. This class will continue to meet at the Kingston City Hospital.

Marshall Field, some years ago, said: "Careful saving and careful spending invariably promote success. Economy is one of the most essential elements of success, yet most wretchedly disregarded. The 5 or 10 cents squandered a day, if saved, will in a few years amount to thousands of dollars. If a man is not competent to manage a small income or a small business, he is not competent to manage a large income or a large business."

TWENTY-SIX MEN ENTRAIN JULY 1

For Government Schools to Receive Mechanical Training — Some of These Men Will be Drafted— Chance for Seven Men Under Special Call to Volunteer.

Local boards for Divisions 1 and 2 of Ulster county will have to furnish a total of 18 men under Call 737 for entrainment from Kingston Monday, July 1, for Buffalo, where they will receive a course in mechanical training at the Buffalo Technical High School. Board 1 will have to furnish 12 men; board 2 will have to provide 8 men.

Board 1 has accepted 5 men under this call, and if 7 more men will volunteer, the board will not have to draft the balance. Because of the short notice and the large territory of board 2, this board will have to draft the 8 men called for, taking them eligible for the occupations listed under the call. The men will be drafted in the sequence of their order numbers.

Grammar school graduates with some mechanical experience (white men in Class 1 eligible for general military service) are the ones wanted under this call. The draft call under the special calls is made necessary because a sufficient number of volunteers did not present themselves to fill these calls.

Those men who wish to volunteer (men in the district of Board 1) must apply to the board before late tomorrow afternoon, for after that time the board will have to draft the balance of the men ordered under the call.

Board 1 will also send 6 men from Kingston July 1 to various government schools, for a course in mechanical training. These men have been accepted under special calls. The men who are to entrain and the places to which they have been assigned are as follows:

Edwin J. Cusack, of 199 Main street, goes to Yonkers, as plumber.

Edward A. Reiss, who boards at the Y. M. C. A., goes to New York city, as automobile mechanic.

Thomas Leach, of 47 Brewster street, goes to Jersey City, as carpenter.

The following will go to the Troy High School as automobile mechanics:

Jacob A. Hommel, 13 Elmendorf street.

William F. Donovan, 578 Delaware avenue.

John Donaldson, 136 West Pierpont street.

SECOND DRAFT LOTTERY DRAWING TOOK PLACE THIS MORNING

Without a Hitch the 1200 Numbers That Determine the Order in Which New Registrants Will Be Called Were Drawn---The Numbers That Apply To Ulster County Districts.

America's second great draft lottery, fixing the order of liability to military service of all young men who have become 21 since June 5, 1917, was completed in record time without a hitch in the senate office building today.

The drawing, which began with Secretary Baker drawing No. 246 at 9:36 o'clock, was finished at 11:40. During the two hours and four minutes taken up with the drawing 1,200 capsules containing the order numbers were drawn from the glass globe.

The second number was drawn by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee; the third by Representative Dent, chairman of the house military affairs committee. They were followed by Senator Warren, Representative Kahn, General March and General Crowder, each of whom drew one capsule.

The drawing from there was taken up by "Major Billy" Wellborn, girl assistant to General Crowder, who continued the drawing until the last capsule, containing number 225, was taken from the bowl.

None of the delay accompanying the first lottery was in evidence today. Lessons then learned were put to good use in the second lottery.

General Crowder prefaced the drawing with a few sentences explaining the purpose of the lottery, but Secretary Baker stepped forward [illegible] to draw the first number without a word. The only delay was that occasioned by the taking of official pictures by khaki-clad photographers.

The numbers applicable to Ulster county were as follows, the order in which the number was drawn appearing first, followed by the serial number drawn:

HIGHLAND.

Highland, June 27.—Mrs. Lena Davis, wife of Captain Alfred Davis, formerly of Milton but at present residents of Kingston, passed away last Friday. She was ill only a short time. The best of doctors and nurses were in attendance but could not save her life. Her funeral was held from the late home on Tremper avenue last Monday and at about 5 o'clock the funeral cortege arrived at the Highland cemetery, where the Order of Eastern Star burial service was performed. She was a member and had held the office of Electa in Highland Chapter. She was highly esteemed by all, who regret her death. There were many beautiful flowers and among them was the emblematic star from the chapter here. Sympathy is extended the husband who is left to travel life's pathway alone and we would point him to the one who looks after all and will never leave or forsake him.

Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins of North Road have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Tabor, and little daughter of New Jersey for several days.

Mrs. Charles Whittaker of this place has been a guest of relatives at Saugerties and Hudson recently and reports a very pleasant time.

Several young people from here attended the dance at New Paltz last Friday evening and report a fine time.

The U. D.'s were entertained and held their business meeting last Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Abram P. Willklow.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Schoonmaker had as their guest the past week Mrs. E. Schoonmaker of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elting were week end guests of friends in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Stiller of Grand street have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. H. Flack, of Poughkeepsie, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins and daughter, Ethel, were guests of relatives last Sunday at New Paltz.

Mrs. Theron DuBois was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. George DuBois at Beacon.

Mrs. Amelia Elmendorf of Clintondale; also Mrs. Maria Harper of the same place were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Cornell on White street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Main of Kingston were Sunday guests of Mr. Main's mother on Washington avenue.

Mrs. Lorin Osterhoudt and son, Charles have spent a week with some relatives in Flushing, L. I., and Brooklyn, and while there had a very pleasant time.

We saw Miss Dorcas Denny of West Park last week and she informed us she was spending a few days in this place with her aunt, Mrs. Le Baron, who is considerably over 90 years of age and quite sprightly and always delighted to see any of her friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Myron Terpening and son, Percy, left here last Wednesday week for a two weeks' stay in New Haven, Conn., with Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, her daughter and son-in-law. She is having a fine time by the word received at home from her.

George Cornell has been suffering from an attack of lumbago, which is far from a pleasant thing to have, and at this time he is feeling some better, yet has not gotten rid of the troublesome disease.

Miss Laura Palmer arrived in town last Saturday for a two weeks' vacation before leaving for a summer course at Cornell.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Constable. There was a large delegation of members present and a very interesting meeting. At the close of the business session the hostess served refreshments, which all enjoyed and appreciated.

At the last meeting of Daughters of America they initiated a candidate—George Gunsalus. The team, under direction of Daniel Kurtz, as drill master, did very fine floor work. There were present 30 members. There is great interest manifested in this order as there is in connection with it a sick benefit; also a death benefit, and it certainly is wise for any woman who is eligible to join this order. They now have the member's jewels, which adds greatly to the appearance, and officer's jewels are expected soon.

Class Day exercises of the high school of this place were held Monday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church, and were well attended and everything passed off O. K. There were many good jokes and roasts given. Yet we were glad they were all given out in good will and taken the same way. In the future you will look back over the way you, as a class, and teachers have traveled together and also we say, never forget the ones who have taught you the grandest lesson in your lives, that of self reliance. The address of welcome by Miss Kathryn Schantz was fine and the response for Junior Class by Louis Palmer was fitting in every respect. Each one gave forth their responses, class prophecy, class songs, and so forth with vim that made all feel that they would love to live over their school days, but alas, this is not to be.

Wednesday morning we were fortunate enough to get around in time to see a number of the Order of Eastern Star and Queen Esther Circle get on the 7:20 trolley with their lunch boxes for a day's outing at Lake Minnewaska and Lake Mohonk. They were taken from New Paltz by conveyances and went to Minnewaska first, then enjoyed the beautiful drive to Mohonk. They were a jolly lot, and we just wished were were O. E. S. members for the day.

Captain Reuben H. Decker motored to Pleasant Valley on business on Tuesday.

War savings stamps drive commenced on Monday with house to canvass and each one succeeded by obtaining a goodly sum to help win the war.

The Dwyer family from New York city are at present occupying their summer home here, just off of Maple avenue.

We think everybody is ready for the Chautauqua, which opens up on our great holiday, July 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hasbrouck and some members of their family motored from Iowa to this place for a visit among their relatives and friends. They left their home one month ago and they certainly must have had a grand trip. Mr. Hasbrouck is a brother of Mrs. J. W. Feeter. These people have many friends all around who are delighted to see them. They will remain some time here and New Paltz and will take some pleasure trips also.

The food sale last Saturday on the lawn of Mrs. J. W. Feeter, under the auspices of the Auxiliary Club of the M. E. Church, was a great success. The display of eatables was large and very attractive and sold readily. Every article was disposed of, netting a substantial sum for the treasury.

The Epworth League has a beautiful new service flag, showing by its number of stars the loved ones gone from the M. E. Church to serve in the world wide war.

Mrs. J. S. Mack has several guests from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gunsalus are at present entertaining Mrs. Gunsalus's mother.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the M. E. Church the relatives and friends of the graduating class of the high school of this place paid their respects to those who have worked hard for four years and in that time have learned how to think, work and live. Still the end is not yet, and as you go forth as members of the class of 1918 with high ideals and larger scope of thought and action attained through your education give the best you have to save the world whatever business you take up. As the world sees your service it certainly will acknowledge and appreciate your work and you may be sure of success. This large church auditorium was packed and beautifully decorated with flowers and with the class, board of education, pastor and speaker, made a very pretty picture, and with the music rendered by some of the class and the eloquent and impressive prayer by the pastor, Rev. F. A. Coon, which was followed by salutary and recitations, by graduates; also address by Richard E. Coon of Poughkeepsie, which in itself was one long to be remembered by all who heard it; and the valedictory by Kathryn Schantz and presentation of diplomas by the principal, E. A. Marsh, were such as to make us all feel that these graduates will lend a helping hand to all with whom they come in contact and we are positive these teachers will put forth every effort to assist the class of next year to the pedestal upon which you who have just retired from with honors and we know the emotions that were in your hearts words could not express for the associations of school days are dear to every one of you and as you look back you will think of many pleasant memories of the four year course and you will be gratified at the thought that you are now ready to take steps further on. There were many gifts received by members of the class, which will ever remind them of the class exercises of 1918.

Mrs. Mary DuBois is spending some time with her daughters at Kerhonkson and Modena.

Newburgh Sends 133 Men.

Today Newburgh sent away 133 of its boys for training camp. They were given an appropriate send-off and a big parade was held. This morning's contingent was the largest sent from Newburgh so far. Judging from all indications Kingston and Ulster county will not be called upon to send any large contingent of men to camp this month.

WORKERS WARNED NOT TO BULLY

Timely Address by Editor Comerford to W. S. S. Workers is Endorsed by Chairmen of City and County—Pressure Only for the Slackers.

After Pastor Schroeder's report at the meeting of war savings stamp workers at the Y. M. C A. on Wednesday evening, Chairman DeWitt called on Editor Thomas J. Comerford, of the Leader, for a speech. Mr. Comerford did not know he was on the program and the call was a surprise, but he made an address so timely and sensible that it was commended by both City Chairman DeWitt and County Chairman Brinnier. He said there was no need to discuss the issues of the war or even the need for money, as there was nothing new to say in either subject that was not known to everybody. The workers in the war savings stamp drive all knew their duty—to urge everyone who can do so to buy stamps—and all they could do was to perform that duty conscientiously, thoroughly and intelligently.

Some seemed to have an idea that everybody, man, woman and child, regardless of wealth or poverty, must pledge the full $20, even if they do not know how they are to meet the payments. It is true that to raise he $2,000,000,000 the government needs to realize at this time from the sale of stamps there must be pledges averaging $20 per capita, but reason and common sense must be used by the workers and no citizen should be insulted or told anything offensive. Workers should induce those who can afford it to buy more than the per capita average of $20, so that the average may be kept up by their excess subscriptions making up for those who cannot possibly subscribe the per capita allotment.

There are thousands who cannot subscribe the $20 for themselves and the members of their families and everybody knows it. Many of these persons find it embarrassing to explain the reasons to a worker and should be considerately treated. On the other hand, as Chairman Brinnier stated as a previous meeting, there are 500 persons in this city alone who are able to go the limit and subscribe for $1,000 worth of stamps, thus making up the average for those who cannot possibly buy $2 worth. On these persuasion and pressure should be brought to bear, but sense should be used. If everyone does his part according to his ability, if the workers work all of the time and if we all get behind them we will put Ulster county over in this campaign as we have in every other campaign to win the war.

County Chairman Brinnier, after expressing his appreciation of Pastor Schroeder's speech and of the showing made by Immanuel Church, said he believed that the German-Americans as a body were patriotic Americans with very few exceptions and that they were showing their Americanism by their acts. It is easy to say we are patriotic, but saying so does not make it so—it is what we do that counts. We can all do our little bit and when anyone has done it the worker should be satisfied. But the man able to subscribe $1,000, or any sum above the $20, should do so and the workers should see that he does it. They should use strong language, not abusive, in telling those who have not brains enough to realize their duty what that duty is.

Mr. Brinnier referred to a merchant amply able to subscribe $1,000 or $10,000 who had said that he would not discommode himself for anybody. "Those are the men to go after hard," he said.

City Chairman DeWitt also endorsed the views of Mr. Comerford and urged that the workers use discretion and avoid anything that might seem like threatening or bullying those who are unable to subscribe to $20 worth of stamps. It was possible that some workers had been over-zealous and had exceeded the bounds of propriety and good policy, but this was wrong and no threatening, direct or by implication, should be indulged in when dealing with those who cannot afford to purchase their full share of stamps.

Wood Passed Standard Wrong Side.

W. E. Wood, a traveling salesman of Brooklyn, was arrested by Officer Fout Wednesday evening for passing the traffic standard at Broadway and Railroad avenue on the wrong side. This morning he entered a plea of guilty and was fined $2 by Judge Schirick. Mr. Wood explained that the violation was unintentional.

MEN NOW WANTED TO HELP IN HAYING

The C. of C. Enrollment Gives the Anxious Farmers Plenty of Efficient Help—Some Have Gone Out.

Six men of the volunteers for emergency farm labor went out of the city this morning to C. B. Wright's at Ireland Corners. They are one day volunteers, who are to-day helping in haying, taken from the Chamber of Commerce lists.

The farm bureau on John street sent out this week 16 girls to go into camp at Ulster Park for berry picking. Also a number of boys were sent to Evansville.

Fifteen girls went out through the farm bureau to hoe, pull weeds and pick berries.

Haying is now going on in some of the towns and it is expected more help will go out of the city for the farmers will find themselves in dire need for help.

The enrollment of volunteers for farm work successfully carried along by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce of which M. Clyde Crosby is chairman has let up some in the past few days. But now that work of haying to be followed by harvesting of rye and oats with short interims has begin the enrollment is expected to start up again.

$50 For Red Cross Wool Fund.

There is a growing realization in the community, that one of the very real Red Cross needs of the Ulster County Chapter, is that of a fund with which to be able to buy woolen yarn to be knitted into garments for our soldiers and sailors. Having this thought in mind, a card party was given at the home of Mrs. George Washburn on West Chestnut street last Friday afternoon. In addition to a most delightful social afternoon the card party netted the splendid sum of $50 for the Red Cross Wool Fund, and a check for that amount will be or has already been sent to treasurer, Joseph M. Schaeffer.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, June 27.—Mrs. Lena Davis, wife of Captain Alfred Davis, formerly of Milton but at present residents of Kingston, passed away last Friday. She was ill only a short time. The best of doctors and nurses were in attendance but could not save her life. Her funeral was held from the late home on Tremper avenue last Monday and at about 5 o'clock the funeral cortege arrived at the Highland cemetery, where the Order of Eastern Star burial service was performed. She was a member and had held the office of Electa in Highland Chapter. She was highly esteemed by all, who regret her death. There were many beautiful flowers and among them was the emblematic star from the chapter here. Sympathy is extended the husband who is left to travel life's pathway alone and we would point him to the one who looks after all and will never leave or forsake him.

Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins of North Road have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Tabor, and little daughter of New Jersey for several days.

Mrs. Charles Whittaker of this place has been a guest of relatives at Saugerties and Hudson recently and reports a very pleasant time.

Several young people from here attended the dance at New Paltz last Friday evening and report a fine time.

The U. D.'s were entertained and held their business meeting last Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Abram P. Wilklow.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Schoonmaker had as their guest the past week Mrs. E. Schoonmaker of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elting were week end guests of friends in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Stiller of Grand street have been entertaining their daughter Mrs. H. Black, of Poughkeepsie, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins and daughter, Ethel, were guests of relatives last Sunday at New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. George Main of Kingston were Sunday guests of Mr. Main's mother on Washington avenue.

Mrs. Lorin Osterhoudt and son, Charles have spent a week with some relatives in Flushing, L. I., and Brooklyn, and while there had a very pleasant time.

We saw Miss Dorcas Denny of West Park last week and she informed us she was spending a few days in this place with her aunt, Mrs. Le Baron, who is considerably over 90 years of age and quite sprightly and always delighted to see any of her friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Myron Terpening and son, Percy, left here last Wednesday week for a two weeks' stay in New Haven, Conn., with Mr. and Mrs. John Graham her daughter and son-in-law. She is having a fine time by the word received at home from her.

Mrs. S. A. Ferris and Miss Julia Ferris were out to Walter Tallman's at Elting's Corners last week, called there on account of the illness of Mrs. Tallman, who is a niece of the Ferris family. The many friends of these people hope to hear of the rapid recovery of Mrs. Tallman.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Sheeley were in Poughkeepsie on business last week.

George Cornell has been suffering from an attack of lumbago, which is far from a pleasant thing to have, and at this time he is feeling some better, yet has not gotten rid of the troublesome disease.

Miss Laura Palmer arrived in town last Saturday for a two weeks' vacation before leaving for a summer course at Cornell.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Constable. There was a large delegation of members present and a very interesting meeting. At the close of the business session the hostess served refreshments, which all enjoyed and appreciated.

At the last meeting of Daughters of America they initiated a candidate—George Gunsalus. The team, under direction of Daniel Kurtz, as drill master, did very fine floor work. There were present 30 members. There is great interest manifested in this order as there is in connection with it a sick benefit; also a death benefit, and it certainly is wise for any woman who is eligible to join this order. They now have the member's jewels, which adds greatly to the appearance, and officer's jewels are expected soon.

Class Day exercises of the high school of this place were held Monday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church, and were well attended and everything passed off O. K. There were many good jokes and roasts given. Yet we were glad they were all given out in good will and taken the same way. In the future you will look back over the way you, as a class, and teachers have traveled together and also we say, never forget the ones who have taught you the grandest lesson in your lives, that of self reliance. The address of welcome by Miss Kathryn Schantz was fine and the response for Junior Class by Louis Palmer was fitting in every respect. Each one gave forth their responses, class prophecy, class songs, and so forth with vim that made all feel that they would love to live over their school days, but alas, this is not to be.

Wednesday morning we were fortunate enough to get around in time to see a number of the Order of Eastern Star and Queen Esther Circle get on the 7:20 trolley with their lunch boxes for a day's outing at Lake Minnewaska and Lake Mohonk. They were taken from New Paltz by conveyances and went to Minnewaska first, then enjoyed the beautiful drive to Mohonk. They were a jolly lot, and we just wished were were O. E. S. members for the day.

Captain Reuben H. Decker motored to Pleasant Valley on business on Tuesday.

War savings stamps drive commenced on Monday with house to canvass and each one succeeded by obtaining a goodly sum to help win the war.

The Dwyer family from New York city are at present occupying their summer home here, just off of Maple avenue.

We think everybody is ready for the Chautauqua, which opens up on our great holiday, July 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hasbrouck and some members of their family motored from Iowa to this place for a visit among their relatives and friends. They left their home one month ago and they certainly must have had a grand trip. Mr. Hasbrouck is a brother of Mrs. J. W. Feeter. These people have many friends all around who are delighted to see them. They will remain some time here and New Paltz and will take some pleasure trips also.

The food sale last Saturday on the lawn of Mrs. J. W. Feeter, under the auspices of the Auxiliary Club of the M. E. Church, was a great success. The display of eatables was large and very attractive and sold readily. Every article was disposed of, netting a substantial sum for the treasury.

The Epworth League has a beautiful new service flag, showing by its number of stars the loved ones gone from the M. E. Church to serve in the world wide war.

Mrs. J. S. Mack has several guests from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gunsalus are at present entertaining Mrs. Gunsalus's mother.

DuBois Ennis has been ill, but at this writing is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Contant have been week end guests of relatives in this place.

Several from this place were in Poughkeepsie this week shopping and dining at the New Windsor Hotel. It is quite up to date in everything.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the M. E. Church the relatives and friends of the graduating class of the high school of this place paid their respects to those who have worked hard for four years and in that time have learned how to think, work and live. Still the end is not yet, and as you go forth as members of the class of 1918 with high ideals and larger scope of thought and action attained through your education give the best you have to save the world whatever business you take up. As the world sees your service it certainly will acknowledge and appreciate your work and you may be sure of success. This large church auditorium was packed and beautifully decorated with flowers and with the class, board of education, pastor and speaker, made a very pretty picture, and with the music rendered by some of the class and the eloquent and impressive prayer by the pastor, Rev. F. A. Coon, which was followed by salutary and recitations, by graduates; also address by Richard E. Coon of Poughkeepsie, which in itself was one long to be remembered by all who heard it; and the valedictory by Kathryn Schantz and presentation of diplomas by the principal, E. A. Marsh, were such as to make us all feel that these graduates will lend a helping hand to all with whom they come in contact and we are positive these teachers will put forth every effort to assist the class of next year to the pedestal upon which you who have just retired from with honors and we know the emotions that were in your hearts words could not express for the associations of school days are dear to every one of you and as you look back you will think of many pleasant memories of the four year course and you will be gratified at the thought that you are now ready to take steps further on. There were many gifts received by members of the class, which will ever remind them of the class exercises of 1918.

Newburgh Sends 133 Men.

Today Newburgh sent away 133 of its boys for training camp. They were given an appropriate send-off and a big parade was held. This morning's contingent was the largest sent from Newburgh so far. Judging from all indications Kingston and Ulster county will not be called upon to send any large contingent of men to camp this month.

"CRIPPLED" GERMANY.

On April 17 prominent headlines announced that permanently disabled soldiers are retained in the German army and, such is the pressing need of man power, "even cripples are called to the colors" From the fuller statement below these headlines it appeared that this was a charge made by a peace-seeking Socialist member of the Reichstag and that therefore it could not be depended on. What good purpose can be served at such a time as this by playing up such a report and thus conveying to millions of careless or rapid readers the impression that Germany is on her last legs If Germany is compelled to recruit her armies with the crippled and otherwise disabled, the end is near, and we in America can afford to slow up while confidently awaiting the inevitable collapse.

Yet, as a matter of fact—stern fact—never in any previous hour has the utmost effort, the utmost haste, on the part of the United States been so imperative as now. The very issue of the papers in which this story of crippled German soldiers was played up contained the news that Germans had captured most of the pivotal Messines Ridge, that the whole British line was in danger, and that, unless the Allies could drive the Germans back, British abandonment of the Channel ports might be necessary, which would, of course, bring menace toward the French ports lower down where American transports now unload. The Germans may employ crippled or otherwise disabled men in some lines of war work, but nevertheless they still possess the most effective war machine the world has ever seen, a machine that has been practiced, tested and perfected for half a century. They have had this from the beginning, and now on the west front they are reinforced by hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of fresh soldiers from the eastern front, men who have been made confident by their victories over the Russians and who have had a long rest from any hard fighting.

It is no time to talk of "crippled" German soldiers or a "crippled" Germany. Day and night on the west front since March 21 the German army has fought vigorous, determined and utterly reckless fight, the very recklessness revealing a wealth of man power as well as sustaining confidence. So far from being "crippled," the German army since March 21 has fought on the whole a winning fight and has gradually advanced, lavishingly sacrificing its plentiful man power the while in its determination to end the war or acquire a commanding position before America is ready to play a great part. No wonder the Allies are sending urgent appeals to us for haste. We have done wonders, we have done much more than was expected in so short a time; but we have not done our utmost, and this—our very utmost—we must now do, or else in a year from now we may be confronted with the task of standing up alone in opposition to Germany's world-conquering march. It is high time to look the real situation squarely in the face, remembering that all the stories of a failing, starving and crippled Germany have been manufactured—with a purpose—in Germany itself.

LIVELY OCTOGENARIANS

The war is waking up the old folk as well as the young, and the former are skipping around and doing their big bit in liveliest fashion. We read that Edwin Grimes, aged 87, of Card Creek, Pa., last season made maple syrup, tended a large vegetable garden, cut and stored 20 tons of hay, and picked and stored 130 bushels of winter apples; that Walter Butler, aged 86, of Newell Creek in the same state, last season milked four cows, raised half a ton of pork, cut hay and oats from forty acres of land, gathered his apples and harvested a hundred bushels of potatoes. The story comes also of dozens of other men between eighty and eighty-five who last year ran farms successfully and who again this year are doing the whole work of strong men in their prime while their sons and grandsons are at the front or working for the government in important special lines. All are doing it, as old Edwin Grimes says, in order to "lick the damn Germans."

J. A. Cottle, aged 84, and Mrs. John Harper, aged 75, of Huntington, W. Va., may not have had precisely the same patriotic object in view when they recently eloped and got married, but their action may be accepted as still another sign of the general shake-up this war is responsible for even in the octogenarian world. If men over eighty can perform the labors reported above, there would seem to be no good reason why they should not also undertake the responsibilities of matrimony.

It is said that Emperor Charles of Austria is sick of the war and would like to get out of it, but a recent utterance shows him to be of the opinion that in these times autocratic rulers need to "stick together." If they don't—and even if they do—some of them are likely to hang together or singly, for the St. Helena proposition does not now commend itself owing to its failure absolutely to put an end to the real cause of the world's present troubles.

It has leaked out that a member of the German Reichstag recently had the courage to declare that "the entire war has become a family affair of the Hohenzollerns" and that if it continues "Europe will become a continent of beggars." What the Hohenzollerns did to this desperate truthteller is left to be imagined.

An American correspondent tells us that our boys in France are always smiling, even when they enter the trenches, when they charge, and when they return from battle. If they can face death with a smile, certainly we can do our part at home without grumbling. And that part consists in producing all possible, consuming as little as necessary, and buying War Savings Stamps with our savings.

"When Good Fellows Get Together"

These days the "good fellows" are the men who are backing our fighters in France.

THEY'RE doing it in a good many ways---one of them is in buying clothes; they're getting them ready made because they can save money and get fine all-wool quality that conserves material; it wears so long.

The thing that we can do is to see that you men get the best, most stylish and serviceable clothes to be had.

We feel that we're accomplishing this best by offering

Hart Schaffner & Marx Fine Suits

These clothes save wool for fighters and labor for war work because they're made so well they last longer than other clothes; you buy fewer per year.

STATE TO COMPLETE HURLEY ROAD

All automobile owners and others who travel the Hurley road will be pleased to learn that the State Highway Department is makng necessary arrangements to complete the road.

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran has received the folowing letter in regard to the work:

State of New York,
Commission of Highways
Albany.
June 26, 1918.

James F. Loughran,
County Supt. of Highways,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Loughran:

Referring to the Kingston-Hurley county highway No. 1373, Ulster county, about which we have corresponded:

The surety company and the contractor having failed to take any action under Section 132 of the Highway Law, the only alternative left is for the department to abrogate the contract and proceed to complete it, which we will do at once. We are making the necessary arrangements and now hope to have the work started within a week. We are sorry that there has been some delay in arriving at this decision but for the reasons which I have explained to you we feel it was best to exhaust every possible resource before abrogating a contract.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) I. J. MORRIS,
Secretary.

O'DONNELL INJURED ON A SUR-CHASER

Frank O'Donnell of Hoffman street, while at work this morning on one of the sub-chasers being built at the Hiltebrant shipyard at Connelly, fell from the deck of one of the boats and sustained a fracture of the skull. Dr. Ross was summoned and administered first aid and a hurry call was sent to police headquarters for the city ambulance to convey the injured man to the Kingston City Hospital.

The ambulance in charge of Driver Simon Wood and Officer James V. Simpson was hurried to Wilbur. When they reached the ferry slip they found the ferry waiting to ferry the ambulance across to the shipyard. The ferry was towed across by a launch so that no time would be lost.

Unless something unforeseen turns up Mr. O'Donnell is expected to recover.

HELPING THE REGISTRANTS

Legal advisory Board Will Aid in Filling out Questionnaires.

The following bulletin was received today by local boards for Divisions 1 and 2 of Ulster county, from the adjutant general's office: "That 1918 registrants may have the assistance and service rendered to the 1917 registrants in the preparation of their questionnaires, claims and other papers. The provost marshall general has directed the issuance of necessary and appropriate instructions to the legal advisory boards and their associated members. Attention is therefore directed to the reprint of bulletin promulgated to legal advisory boards during December, which applies to present action."

The members of the legal advisory board have gladly given their time and service free. The 1918 registrants will have the same help and courtesy extended to them by the members of the board as last year's registrants.

OLD BASEBALLS ARE USEFUL

Yarn in Wornout Pills Good for Knitting Sweaters for Soldier Boys Now in France.

A new use has been found for used baseballs, the discovery being made by President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates when he recently received a letter from a patriotic young woman reading as follows:

"The young women of our association are knitting sweaters, helmets, socks and other articles for the boys of the American expeditionary force in France. As a special favor we are going to ask you if you would kindly donate to us all the wornout baseballs that may come into the possession of the Pittsburgh club this year.

"We have experimented with the yarn inside of the professional balls used by teams of the National league and find that it cannot be excelled for knitting work.

"If you can see your way clear to grant this request we feel that you will not only be doing us a great favor, but as well rendering a patriotic service for the American soldiers 'over there.'"

CLARE CASSEL RETURNS TO RANKS OF AMATEUR TENNIS

This is the most recent photograph of Miss Clare Cassel, whose return to the ranks of amateur tennis has brought joy to the great host of followers of the game. Before she left competition Miss Cassel ranked among the first ten women experts on the courts. She was forced to forego playing in 1916 because she had given professional skating instruction, which debarred her from amateur tennis competition. She has refrained from professional sport activity for more than a year and as a result is now restored to her amateur status.

WORKERS WARNED NOT TO BULLY

Timely Address by Editor Comerford to W. S. S. Workers is Endorsed by Chairmen of City and County—Pressure Only for the Slackers.

After Pastor Schroeder's report at the meeting of war savings stamp workers at the Y. M. C A. on Wednesday evening, Chairman DeWitt called on Editor Thomas J. Comerford, of the Leader, for a speech. Mr. Comerford did not know he was on the program and the call was a surprise, but he made an address so timely and sensible that it was commended by both City Chairman DeWitt and County Chairman Brinnier. He said there was no need to discuss the issues of the war or even the need for money, as there was nothing new to say in either subject that was not known to everybody. The workers in the war savings stamp drive all knew their duty—to urge everyone who can do so to buy stamps—and all they could do was to perform that duty conscientiously, thoroughly and intelligently.

Some seemed to have an idea that everybody, man, woman and child, regardless of wealth or poverty, must pledge the full $20, even if they do not know how they are to meet the payments. It is true that to raise he $2,000,000,000 the government needs to realize at this time from the sale of stamps there must be pledges averaging $20 per capita, but reason and common sense must be used by the workers and no citizen should be insulted or told anything offensive. Workers should induce those who can afford it to buy more than the per capita average of $20, so that the average may be kept up by their excess subscriptions making up for those who cannot possibly subscribe the per capita allotment.

There are thousands who cannot subscribe the $20 for themselves and the members of their families and verybody knows it Many of these persons find it embarrassing to explain the reasons to a worker and should be considerately treated. On the other hand, as Chairman Brinnier stated as a previous meeting, there are 500 persons in this city alone who are able to go the limit and subscribe for $1.000 worth of stamps, thus making up the average for those who cannot possibly buy $2 worth On these persuasion and pressure should be brought to bear, but sense should be used If everyone does his part according to his ability, if the workers work all of the time and if we all get behind them we will put Ulster county over in this campaign as we have in every other campaign to win the war.

County Chairman Brinnier, after expressing his appreciation of Pastor Schroeder's speech and of the showing made by Immanuel Church, said he believed that the German-Americans as a body were patriotic Americans with very few exceptions and that they were showing their Americanism by their acts. "It is easy to say we are patriotic, but saying so does not make it so—it is what we do that counts We can all do our little bit and when anyone has done it the worker should be satisfied. But the man able to subscribe $1,000, or any sum above the $20, should do so and the workers should see that he does it. They should use strong language, not abusive, in telling those who have not brains enough to realize their duty what that duty is

Mr Brinnier referred to a merchant amply able to subscribe $1.000 or $10,000 who had said that he would not discommode himself for anybody "Those are the men to go after hard," he said.

City Chairman DeWitt also endorsed the views of Mr Comerford and urged that the workers use discretion and avoid anything that might seem like threatening or bullying those who are unable to subscribe to $20 worth of stamps It was possible that some workers had been over-zealous and had exceeded the bounds of propriety and good policy, but this was wrong and no threatening, direct or by implication, should be indulged in when dealing with those who cannot afford to purchase their full share of stamps.

MEN NOW WANTED TO HELP IN HAYING

The C. of C. Enrollment Gives the Anxious Farmers Plenty of Efficient Help—Some Have Gone Out.

Six men of the volunteers for emergency farm labor went out of the city this morning to C. B. Wright's at Ireland Corners. They are one day volunteers, who are to-day helping in haying, taken from the Chamber of Commerce lists.

The farm bureau on John street sent out this week 16 girls to go into camp at Ulster Park for berry picking. Also a number of boys were sent to Evansville.

Fifteen girls went out through the farm bureau to hoe, pull weeds and pick berries.

Haying is now going on in some of the towns and it is expected more help will go out of the city for the farmers will find themselves in dire need for help.

The enrollment of volunteers for farm work successfully carried along by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce of which M. Clyde Crosby is chairman has let up some in the past few days. But now that work of haying to be followed by harvesting of rye and oats with short interims has begin the enrollment is expected to start up again.

$50 For Red Cross Wool Fund.

There is a growing realization in the community, that one of the very real Red Cross needs of the Ulster County Chapter, is that of a fund with which to be able to buy woolen yarn to be knitted into garments for our soldiers and sailors. Having this thought in mind, a card party was given at the home of Mrs. George Washburn on West Chestnut street last Friday afternoon. In addition to a most delightful social afternoon the card party netted the splendid sum of $50 for the Red Cross Wool Fund, and a check for that amount will be or has already been sent to treasurer, Joseph M. Schaeffer.

Chaplain Percy H. Silver of West Point has accepted a call to the Church of the Incarnation in New York city. He will take up his new duties October 1 Chaplain Silver is well known in Kingston, where he has spoken several times.

You'll be a better American after seeing

The Unbeliever

A love story in a war setting.

"You'd never dream it was washed!"

Sweaters just like new

THEY washed their sweaters themselves—right at home! With wonderful Lux suds!

And they came out soft—fluffy—not a bit shrunken—just like the day they were bought!

Lux is simply wonderful for woolens of any kind—sweaters, blankets, babies' clothes, scarfs, everything.

Why wool shrinks

The surface of wool fibre is made up of tiny overlapping scales, like the scales of a fish. When you rub wool, these scales get all tangled and twisted. When alkali touches them, the fibres draw up and tighten. Result—a stiff, matted, shrunken garment.

But Lux leaves your woolens like new because with Lux there is no rubbing! Nor one injurious element!

Lux comes in pure, transparent delicate flakes. They melt the instant they touch hot water. You whisk them into the foamiest lather. You soak the woolens in these wonderful suds. You don't have to rub them. Lux loosens the dirt. The dirt drops out into the suds.

How can they stay so white?

You will never forget your delight with the whiteness of woolens washed in Lux. When cake soap is rubbed on woolens, no matter how carefully you rinse, tiny bits of soap usually remain in the wool and yellow it.

With Lux that never happens. The hot water dissolves the delicate flakes instantly. You let the article soak in the hot Lux suds until the temperature is comfortable for your hands. You work it about in the thick suds, but don't rub. Then you rinse it thoroughly in three waters the same temperature as the first, with a little Lux dissolved in the last water to leave the woolens softer and fluffier.

Could anything be easier?

Get your package of Lux today at your grocer's, druggist's or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To wash colored sweaters

If you have not washed your sweater before, soak it for a few minutes in a solution of one cup of salt to one gallon of water—to set the color.

Whisk Lux into a rich lather in very hot water—two tablespoonfuls to the gallon. Add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Then put your sweater in, and swish it about in the suds. Wash quickly, pressing the suds through the sweater, but do not rub. Rinse three times in lukewarm water, and dissolve a little Lux in the last rinsing water to leave your sweater soft and woolly. Never wring sweaters. Just squeeze the water out, and spread on a towel to dry in the shade.

Use Lux on anything that pure water alone will not harm.

LUX Won't Shrink Woolens

RIFTON.

Rifton, June 27.—The entertainment given by the Rifton and Rocks schools Friday evening was a great success. In spite of the rainy night the hall was filled to its capacity. The stage was beautifully decorated with American flags and red roses. The following program was given: "Tenting Tonight," by girls dressed as Red Cross nurses and Evelyn Smith as Liberty and Graham Davis as Uncle Sam. "The Brownie Band," an operetta. As the introductory measures were played fourteen girls carrying baskets of flowers skipped in the stage singing the opening chorus. Then came a solo, "Two Little Baby Birds," by Elsie Jacobson. After this a duet, "Sweet Butterflies," by Eugenia Freer and Beatrice Shepstone. They looked very charming in their pale yellow dresses representing butterflies. This was followed by the chorus of "Gypsy Girls" carrying tambourines and wearing red and black dresses trimmed with tinsel. Then a solo, "Lost in the Woods" by Winifred Freer. This was greatly applauded. At the close of her solo the "Brownie Band" skipped lightly on the stage and sang. Then came the flower drill by twelve girls carrying garlands of flowers. This was very picturesjue and was finely executed. As the drill ended the children formed two lines at each side of the stage and held their garlands as Hazel Jones danced in and sang "The Flower Song." Next was a solo, "The Fairy Princess," by Margaret Davis, dressed as a fairy. This was followed by a duet, "Billy Big-Eye and Tommy Long Wing," by Milton Freidman and Charles Freer. Then came the chorus of "Little Wee-Wees." Next a solo, "I'm a Brownie," by Joe McAllise. This received great applause. Following this was "The Fairy's Lullaby," by Alice Freer, dressed as a fairy queen. Then a chorus by the girls, "The Brownie Charm," followed by the chorus, "Home Again." Play in two acts, 'A Perplexing Situation," by Robert Osterhoudt. Hazel Jones, Wilma Petroff, Alice, Eugenia and Charles Freer, Milton and Yetta Freidman, Margaret and Lloyd Davis, Beatrice Shepstone and Graham Davis. Solo, "Just a Bit of Cloth but It's Red, White and Blue," by Eugenia Freer. Duet, "A Soldier Boy and a Red Cross Maid," Hayward Eckert and Winifred Freer. Every number on the program was well rendered and the children deserve much credit, also their teachers, Miss Scharschu and Miss Devine, who worked so hard to make the entertainment a success.

Friday.

Breakfast—Prunes, hominy grits with top milk, *gingerbread, cocoa.

Lunch or Supper—Scalloped hominy, barley and cornmeal sticks, hot apple sauce.

Dinner—Broiled salt mackerel with hot cream, mashed potatoes, lettuce-sliced, endive and beet salad, *baked bananas with lemon juice.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Additional reasons for saving sugar have been added by the operations of the German U-boats off our Atlantic coast. Several of the ships sent to the bottom by them were bringing cargoes of this precious sweet to relieve our shortage. American housewives can answer the Hun prowler by saving more sugar than they have destroyed from our national larder.

Ginger Bread.

One-half cup fat, 1½ cups molasses, 1 cup boiling water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup corn flour, 1 cup buckwheat flour, 2 eggs.

Cream the fat, and add the molasses and the boiling water. Add the sifted dry ingredients to the first mixture. Add the eggs last. Bake the cake in a loaf or in a shallow pan in a moderate oven.

Scalloped Hominy With Peanuts.

Two tablespoons fat, 1 1-3 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup ground peanuts, 2-3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon minced onion salt, pepper, 1 cup cooked hominy.

Melt the fat, remove the pan from the heat and add the cornstarch. Stir the mixture until it is smooth. Add the milk, return the pan to the heat and cook the mixture until it thickens, stirring it constantly. In a greased baking dish place alternate layers of hominy and sauce and peanuts. Bake the dish in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes.

Barley and Cornmeal Sticks.

¾ cup barley flour, ¾ cup cornmeal, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk.

Sift together the dry ingredients and cut in the fat. Add the beaten egg and the milk, and mix the ingredients well. Turn the mixture on a board and shape it into small, oblong rolls. Bake the rolls in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes. These rolls are good served with salad.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Food Leaflets and Circulars.

The department has published a series of pamphlets dealing with food saving, and containing late information for the economical use of various foods and the making of desirable leftovers. These circulars contain many practical recipes expected to be of direct interest to the housewife who wishes to help through her household in the national effort to insure an adequate food supply. They will be sent free in answer to individual requests and are especially suitable for distribution by those in charge of local food conservation campaigns. Inquirers should ask for the United States Food Leaflets.

Other circulars issued by the department for free distribution on request are entitled "Cottage-Cheese Dishes," "Use of Peanut Flour to Save Wheat," and "Use Potatoes to Save Wheat." These contain new recipes for the use of these products.

EXCITING SCHOOL SESSION.

To be Held Friday Evening in Ponckhockie Union Church.

Friday evening an exciting and amusing school session will be held in the chapel of the Ponckhockie Union Church on Abruyn street when "Ye Olde Time School" will be presented by the young people of that section of the city under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church. The school will hold two sessions, the first being devoted to "lessons" and the second session to "recitations and speaking pieces." Among those taking part in the school session will be R. H. Van Valkenburgh, Harold L. Van Deusen, Harold Darling, George Kent, John Kolts, Webster Crane, Herman Gunter, Harry Conklin, Harvey Kolts, Ernest Heppner, Alfred W. Buley and the Misses Viola Berryan, Llewelyna Gill, Lillian Metcalf, Ethel Skelton, Anna Winchell, Ruth Gill, Helen Planthaber and Mrs. Walter Tammany. Miss Hilda Spalt is the pianist. Ice cream and cake will be on sale at the close of the school. A nominal admission will be charged.

Indoor Circus a Success.

The indoor circus given by the Daughters of Isabella on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Mrs. P. H. Cullen, was a great success both socially and financially. All who took part did their act well. The enthusiastic performers and audience ended the evening by singing the Star Spangled Banner, led by Mrs. William Leary. The Daughters wished to donate a sum to charity and that sum has been more than realized.

President Hibben, of Princeton University, says: "A world in need has sent forth across the waters its cry to us for help. We can not respond and at the same time continue our comfortable, easy-going mode of existence. The times demand sacrifice, and sacrifice can no longer be free from suffering."

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Downs street, which is being laid with Willite, is expected to be completed this evening and thrown open to traffic on Friday.

So far 32 women aliens have registered at police headquarters. There are a few more who are expected to register.

Measles are still on the wane in Kingston and Wednesday but three new cases were reported to the board of health.

Owing to the fact that the summer vacation permits allowing school children to work during July and August will not allow the possessors to work in factories of the city, the health board will not be rushed with children securing permits. As has been explained before, school children in order to secure work in factories must first obtain a working certificate. In order to do that they have to have taken the regular school course and have passed the sixth grade in grammar school.

If the summer permits had permitted work in factories the health board was expecting to be called upon to issue fully five hundred of the permits.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, June 27.—Class Day exercises of the local high school were held in the Auditorium Tuesday evening, commencing at 8:15 o'clock, and the very excellent program, as arranged, occupied but an hour's time and was enjoyed to the profit of all in attendance. The class, which has fifteen members, were seated upon the platform as curtain was drawn, seated as very much at home. In the back of stage upon the wall was placed, in the center, the large flag, while below was suspended a service flag with three stars, which stood for three members of the class who were in their country's service, Myron Smith, Richmond Campbell and Robert Thornton, and to the pleasure of all, especially the class members, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Thornton, were privileged to be present. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of young Mr. Simrin of a Liberty Bond taken out by the class and now given over to the school. On behalf of the Board of Education, Principal R. W. Thompson accepted the gift, with well chosen words; also stated that he had had been with the Ellenville schools four years, coming as this class entered the high school, and leaving the school at the end of the graduating exercises are over, therefore feeling that the class was indeed his class. Mr. Thompson has accepted the position of superintendent of the schools at Deposit and enters upon his work there in September. Each number on the program received its share of well-merited applause. Class flower, blacked-eyed Susan; class colors, orange and black; class motto, "Mens sana in sano corpore" (a sound mind in a sound body.)

"CRIPPLED" GERMANY.

On April 17 prominent headlines announced that permanently disabled soldiers are retained in the German army and, such is the pressing need of man power, "even cripples are called to the colors" From the fuller statement below these headlines it appeared that this was a charge made by a peace-seeking Socialist member of the Reichstag and that therefore it could not be depended on. What good purpose can be served at such a time as this by playing up such a report and thus conveying to millions of careless or rapid readers the impression that Germany is on her last legs If Germany is compelled to recruit her armies with the crippled and otherwise disabled, the end is near, and we in America can afford to slow up while confidently awaiting the inevitable collapse.

Yet, as a matter of fact—stern fact—never in any previous hour has the utmost effort, the utmost haste, on the part of the United States been so imperative as now. The very issue of the papers in which this story of crippled German soldiers was played up contained the news that Germans had captured most of the pivotal Messines Ridge, that the whole British line was in danger, and that, unless the Allies could drive the Germans back, British abandonment of the Channel ports might be necessary, which would, of course, bring menace toward the French ports lower down where American transports now unload. The Germans may employ crippled or otherwise disabled men in some lines of war work, but nevertheless they still possess the most effective war machine the world has ever seen, a machine that has been practiced, tested and perfected for half a century, they have had this from the beginning, and now on the west front they are reinforced by hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of fresh soldiers from the eastern front, men who have been made confident by their victories over the Russians and who have had a long rest from any hard fighting.

It is no time to talk of "crippled" German soldiers or a "crippled" Germany. Day and night on the west front since March 21 the German army has fought vigorous determined and utterly reckless fight, the very recklessness revealing a wealth of man power as well as sustaining confidence. So far from being "crippled," the German army since March 21 has fought on the whole a winning fight and has gradually advanced, lavishingly sacrificing its plentiful man power the while in its determination to end the war or acquire a commanding position before America is ready to play a great part. No wonder the Allies are sending urgent appeals to us for haste. We have done wonders, we have done much more than was expected in so short a time, but we have not done our utmost, and this—our very utmost—we must now do, or else in a year from now we may be confronted with the task of standing up alone in opposition to Germany's world-conquering march. It is high time to look the real situation squarely in the face, remembering that all the stories of a failing, starving and crippled Germany have been manufactured—with a purpose—in Germany itself

The war is waking up the old folk as well as the young, and the former are skipping around and doing their big bit in liveliest fashion. We read that Edwin Grimes, aged 87, of Card Creek, Pa., last season made maple syrup, tended a large vegetable garden, cut and stored 20 tons of hay, and picked and stored 130 bushels of winter apples; that Walter Butler, aged 86, of Newell Creek in the same state, last season milked four cows, raised half a ton of pork, cut hay and oats from forty acres of land, gathered his apples and harvested a hundred bushels of potatoes. The story comes also of dozens of other men between eighty and eighty-five who last year ran farms successfully and who again this year are doing the whole work of strong men in their prime while their sons and grandsons are at the front or working for the government in important special lines. All are doing it, as old Edwin Grimes says, in order to "lick the damn Germans."

J. A. Cottle, aged 84, and Mrs. John Harper, aged 75, of Huntington, W. Va., may not have had precisely the same patriotic object in view when they recently eloped and got married, but their action may be accepted as still another sign of the general shake-up this war is responsible for even in the octogenarian world. If men over eighty can perform the labors reported above, there would seem to be no good reason why they should not also undertake the responsibilities of matrimony.

It is said that Emperor Charles of Austria is sick of the war and would like to get out of it, but a recent utterance shows him to be of the opinion that in these times autocratic rulers need to "stick together." If they don't—and even if they do—some of them are likely to hang together or singly, for the St. Helena proposition does not now commend itself owing to its failure absolutely to put an end to the real cause of the world's present troubles.

It has leaked out that a member of the German Reichstag recently had the courage to declare that "the entire war has become a family affair of the Hohenzollerns" and that if it continues "Europe will become a continent of beggars." What the Hohenzollerns did to this desperate truth-teller is left to be imagined.

An American correspondent tells us that our boys in France are always smiling, even when they enter the trenches, when they charge, and when they return from battle. If they can face death with a smile, certainly we can do our part at home without grumbling. And that part consists in producing all possible, consuming as little as necessary, and buying War Savings Stamps with our savings.

OUR CAMP UPTON BOYS IN ENGLAND

Their Voyage Across and Their Stay in England While Awaiting Transport to France Described in a Very Interesting Letter.

The following letter was received by the parents of a young man from an adjoining county, who is in the regiment in which most of the Ulster county men who went to Camp Upton are:

Co. E, Bat. 306th Inf., A. E. F., via New York.
April 29, 1918.

Dear Parents:

This is the first opportunity I have had to write since I arrived I mailed you a card on the train, as I was leaving Camp Upton on April 12, and also mailed a card as we were about to embark stating "I have arrived safely." Both of these cards no doubt reached you by this time.

The letter I sent you before was mailed on the boat, and was censored, and therefore could write but little.

We went from Camp Upton to Boston and boarded the ship from there and then went back to New York harbor, after which we sailed direct out. We were aboard the boat 15 days, although our trip across took us 12 days. We landed in Liverpool Sunday at noon, 4:28, and took the train from there about 6 p. m., arrived at Folkestone (England) on Monday morning at 3 o'clock (today). We are placed in various houses, formerly hotels, which have been abandoned and we are allowed to roam about the village or rather city (35,000) while here, although I think we shall leave for France this evening or tomorrow morning.

The trip across was interesting, and I was not seasick, but felt a bit strange the first night at sea as it was quite rough. We found calm weather coming over during most of the trip, but we had a couple of stormy days.

There is a shortage of sugar in England, and we drink our coffee unsweetened; also one is restricted to eating, and is only allowed a certain amount, but still the pinch isn't felt as badly here as I imagine it must be in France.

I know you must have worried about me during the time you have not heard, but please stop worrying and make the best of it all. War isn't a pleasant thing, and we must take things as they come.

I shall try and write each week at least, and keep you informed as much as possible about conditions.

I am thankful that I am well and can say that I am looking at everything in the best of spirits.

There are a lot of fine boys in the service, who have all left good homes, so that you must realize I am not the only one, and should take things the way they come.

It is my wish that you enjoy yourselves as much as possible, take your regular auto trips on Sunday and be as comfortable as you can, and in doing this you will please me better than anything else you can do for me. We have been told that we may reach the trenches in thirty days. This may not be official and it may be two or even three months, but if the war continues you must realize that I am bound to be in active service sooner or later, and my life may be in danger, and I want you or rather I sincerely wish that whatever happens you will consider it God's will and will not make yourselves miserable.

I am very hopeful and it may be that I should soon return well and strong, but am not keeping anything from you, and want you to know the truth at all times. The war may be over before we see active service, or something may turn up as Micawber used to say in David Copperfield, but still one should always prepare for the inevitable or the hand of fate.

It seems strange how happy and contented we all are; none of us seem to realize any danger whatever, and I believe that is the best way, but still I never believed in deceptions or giving false impressions.

The newspapers in England give me an idea of conditions and all realize that it requires every available man and all means possible, if the Germans are to be beaten. England has lost quite some men, but still the fight goes on. The Germans seem to push their way on, and are giving the whole world the fight of their lives, although all hope for a decision soon, but I believe none can come unless the powers decide to compromise. That is the only way to end the war quickly, and I am hoping for such a compromise and it doesnt seem unreasonable either.

I have found the English people very courteous and obliging and have enjoyed talking with them. American soldiers are to be seen today all over the streets of Folkestone, the place I am in for the time being, and we are all in a rest camp for 24 or 36 hours or so, it is hard to tell how long.

I have decided to write to no one but home to you and you can answer all inquiries of friends and convey my best wishes and regards to all friends and relatives. It is harder to write now than before, and I am making the best of the few hours of rest to write mail that isn't censored. My letters from camp will all be censored and we can write nothing about military life, only personal matters, but still that is all you care to know anyway; you can read enough war news in the papers.

I often think of home and keep hoping that you will not worry about me, if I only knew that you were happy and would enjoy yourselves as though I were home, I should feel very happy indeed.

I have always believed in predestination, and I still believe that God controls every move and whatever happens is part of a great plan and all for the best, so that I am happy in my belief and I should like to know that you are happy too.

We are all seeing things new and interesting and have little chance to brood or worry and we shouldn't worry if we had the chance, because we don't want to think of only the pleasant part of our life.

These last two months have been months of wonder and interest. Then, too, they have given me more knowledge of human life and of characters of men than ever before, and they have given me a chance to know that one can do many things which he wouldn't believe before.

I shall be glad to hear from you often. Keep me posted of home life and conditions and tell others to write even though I do not write to them.

It is interesting to see how narrow the streets are in Folkstone and to purchase articles with shillings, sixpence, pennies and half pennies. Most of the boys have to trust to the honesty of the shop keepers, but I always reckon the value in American money and count my change on the same basis and have caught on pretty well already during the few hours we have been allowed out of camp. The English accent is very marked and sounds strange, but I enjoy it.

My time is limited, and I have written considerable, and hope to write you many more letters, but before closing I wish once more to impress upon you my desire that you will be happy and not worry about me whatever happens, because I am in the hands of a higher power, Who knows what is best.

Goodbye and God bless you both. My love to you all. I shall probably be in France tonight or tomorrow, but may not see the firing line for a long time.

Your devoted son,
MARKIE.

First African Explorer.

The first organized attempt to explore the interior of Africa was made by Mungo Park, who set sail on his initial voyage to the Dark Continent 123 years ago. He returned two years and seven months later after having explored a considerable section of Africa never before visited by a white man, although he failed in his main purpose, which was to trace the source of the River Niger.

A Puzzled Reporter.

If I happen to marry a woman with whom I naturally agree, I will turn out a good husband; if not, I'll turn out a bad husband. Find a man and wife who are compelled to "study" each other in order to get along, and who "talk things over" a good deal, and say mean things to each other, and they'd separate if it wasn't for the children, or the name of it.—Ed Howe's Weekly.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

SIGN UP BEFORE FRIDAY

Every American citizen, every adult of earning capacity in Kingston and Ulster county will be required to line up and sign a pledge card at appointed stations on June 28th unless he or she has already signed a pledge card to take and pay for War Stamps and has given this pledge card to one of the workers in the drive that is now under way.

SIGN PLEDGE CARD FOR THE LIMIT

To sign a pledge card and agree to take and pay for one or two or three War Stamps, at a little over $4 each, when you can without undue inconvenience sign a card to take and pay for five or ten or twenty stamps, is simply seeking to do as little as you can toward helping the government of the United States win the war and make the world safe for democracy, instead of doing all that you can.

Uncle Sam is looking to you, to each and every American citizen, at this time to loan your money generously to him. He is seeking to perform a great service for you and for your children, and your children's children. And he has a right to ask you to give your money to enable him to carry on his undertaking.

But instead of this he is simply asking you to loan your money, and at a good rate of interest, and he promises to return it, every penny of it, and with interest accrued.

Under these conditions and circumstances, who is there that does not want to loan all that is possible to loan?

Sign a pledge card that will reflect your interest in the fight Uncle Sam is making, that will reflect your confidence in your government and that will reflect your genuine Americanism.

Then your card will stand scrutiny. Then you will not have to get in line on National War Savings Day, which is designated by the President and by the Governor, to be June 28th.

STATE TO COMPLETE HURLEY ROAD

All automobile owners and others who travel the Hurley road will be pleased to learn that the State Highway Department is makng necessary arrangements to complete the road.

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran has received the folowing letter in regard to the work:

State of New York,
Commission of Highways
Albany.
June 26 1918.

James F. Loughran,
County Supt. of Highways,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Loughran:

Referring to the Kingston-Hurley county highway No. 1373, Ulster county, about which we have corresponded

The surety company and the contractor having failed to take any action under Section 132 of the Highway Law, the only alternative left is for the department to abrogate the contract and proceed to complete it, which we will do at once We are making the necessary arrangements and now hope to have the work started within a week. We are sorry that there has been some delay in arriving at this decision but for the reasons which I have explained to you we feel it was best to exhaust every possible resource before abrogating a contract.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) I J MORRIS.
Secretary.

OLD BASEBALLS ARE USEFUL

Yarn in Wornout Pills Good for Knitting Sweaters for Soldier Boys Now in France.

A new use has been found for used baseballs, the discovery being made by President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates when he recently received a letter from a patriotic young woman reading as follows:

"The young women of our association are knitting sweaters helmets, socks and other articles for the boys of the American expeditionary force in France. As a special favor we are going to ask you if you would kindly donate to us all the wornout baseballs that may come into the possession of the Pittsburgh club this year.

"We have experimented with the yarn inside of the professional balls used by teams of the National league and find that it cannot be excelled for knitting work.

"If you can see your way clear to grant this request we feel that you will not only be doing us a great favor, but as well rendering a patriotic service for the American soldiers 'over there.'"

CLARE CASSEL RETURNS TO RANKS OF AMATEUR TENNIS

This is the most recent photograph of Miss Clare Cassel, whose return to the ranks of amateur tennis has brought joy to the great host of followers of the game. Before she left competition Miss Cassel ranked among the first ten women experts on the courts. She was forced to forego playing in 1916 because she had given professional skating instruction, which debarred her from amateur tennis competition. She has refrained from professional sport activity for more than a year and as a result is now restored to her amateur status.

WAR SAVINGS PLEDGE WEEK

Ulster County and Kingston Must be Put Over the Top

War Savings Stamps are the best investment that any government has ever offered to its people

I. They are safe as to principal.

Banks, stock corporations and trust companies have been known to fail. The government has never failed and it never will unless the people fail. It's up to you.

II. They are safe against loss.

A War Saving Certificate with any number of Stamps on it can be registered at any 1st, 2nd or 3rd class post office. Subsequent Stamps can be registered as they are affixed. When thus registered the government will make repayment even though the certificate is lost or stolen. No one else can realize on your property. The merchants of one town in Georgia had their certificates registered and then placed them in their store windows with such signs as "Better Than Money," "We're Not Afraid of Fire," "We're Not Afraid of Burglars," "If We Lose Them We Get Our Money Anyway."

III. The entire principal plus the interest is available at any time.

By giving notice to the post office an owner can at any time that he may need his money have his entire investment returned to him one hundred cents on the dollar together with interest at the rate of one cent per month for each War Saving Stamp. No loss whatsoever is suffered and no fee need be paid to anyone.

IV. They are bound to increase in value.

This is the only security that will never depreciate in value. It can never go down and will never be sold on any stock exchange. The value is constant and interest is always accumulating.

V. Small sums draw interest.

You only have to save a little over $4.00 and your money starts to draw interest. The investment is within reach of all. You do not have to save a large amount before you begin to get a return on your money.

VI. They drawer better interest than Liberty Bonds.

If you put Liberty Bonds away in a drawer for five years the interest that accumulates ceases to draw interest the minute it becomes due, but if you lock up War Savings Stamps the interest draws new interest every three months and at no time is any of the money lying idle.

VII. It is only a loan and not a gift.

You get all your money back together with interest in less than five years. You do not have to wait a long time before your investment is returned.

VIII. It is rendering a genuinely patriotic service.

The government needs money and the man who does not begrudge lending is giving 100 per cent. service. Keep it up. Lend some every month.

IX. It is a clean investment.

There can never be any liability or worry. Stick your certificates away for five years and forget them. They will never fail you. They are more secure than gold. You can lose gold.

X. They are available for purchase the whole year.

You can start your money drawing interest at any time this year. They are on sale until December 31st. Whenever you have any money there is good interest waiting for you. You are not restricted to four weeks in which to buy and you do not have to wait six months before you can invest and get interest again. Don't let your money lie idle, save for the rainy day that may come after the war. Your money back with 3 per cent. interest any time on demand before January 1st, 1923.

WSS

The time is past when we must apologize to Americans for telling them to do their plain duty.

WSS

Saving is the best life insurance. He who saves will never worry.

WSS

The man who says he is unable to pledge to buy any Stamps and gives as his excuse that he has already bought some thereby demonstrates that he is able to buy again. Don't let him stall.

WSS

The man who lends once has only just learned the lesson of patriotism, the man who lends is patriotic but the man who lends and lends and lends and never stops to count—he is a real patriot. This is the time of our national need. We must all be patriots.

WSS

At a time when men are offering their lives it is a privilege to be permitted to LEND money.

WSS

Pledge now. Buy later. Don't delay.

WSS

Ask the man who says he is unable to pledge because he is paying installments on his Liberty Bonds which Loan they are. If they are of the Second Loan nail him for he will be able to take stamps in November and December.

WSS

The man who gives as his excuse for not buying stamps the reason that he has bought Bonds has only just started to wake up. He should get the habit. He gets Democracy all the time why should he do his bit only once? The Stamps are at least as good as the Bonds.

WSS

A great responsibility rests on the solicitor. He must decide fairly whether a man is able to buy when he says he cannot. THE SLACKER MUST BE ROOTED OUT, BUT THE POOR MAN MUST NOT BE ABUSED.

WSS

The man who says he does not want to be bothered with Stamps and prefers to put large sums into Liberty Bonds does not seem to realize that oak trees grow from acorns and that today the government is crying for acorns. It is worse to ignore the government's small requests than to heed the large. Refusers have more ready followers than givers. Don't set a bad example. Lead, don't lag. Nothing the government asks can be too small or too much bother.

WSS

There are only three kinds of people who will not lend,—the fool, the ignorant and the traitor, the fool wants no help, the ignorant we will help the traitor—God help.

WSS

The time has come when we can recognize only two kinds of citizens in this country. Americans and others. Smoke the others out.

WAR AT A GLANCE

In the absence of any grand operations on the battle fronts, chief public interest today turned towards the political storm which has been aroused in Germany by the speeches of Foreign Secretary Richard von Kuhlmann and Chancellor von Hertling.

Von Ludendorff has turned against von Kuhlmann and it is persistently reported the latter will resign.

The kaiser is reported to have given his consent to the selection of a new foreign secretary.

In the meanwhile the Socialists are up in arms and Dr. Haase, chief leader of the Independent Socialists in the Reichstag, delivered a bitter attack against the recent speech of the kaiser and against the militarists.

Austria was accused of deliberately starting the war with the sanction of Germany.

The Vorwaerts of Berlin, chief organ of the German Socialists, is demanding "A clean government" with a chancellor who will really hold authority instead of one who is the puppet of von Ludendorff.

MARKET DEMAND FOR STRAW FOR BEDDING

Commodity Will Now Bring Good Margin of Profit to Farmer.

Large Number of Horses and Mules in Army Camps Has Materially Increased Prices for Commodity—Bale All Surplus.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Nearly a third of a million of horses and mules have been removed from farms and ranges and placed in army camps. This has increased the market demand for straw for bedding several hundred tons per week.

The prices at army camps and large markets have naturally influenced the price of this commodity on local markets, and the straw that was formerly burned or allowed to be trampled down by stock will now bring enough on the market to leave a good margin of profit to farmers over the cost of baling and shipping. The market price of straw is now between $8 and $20 per ton, and there is a good demand for almost any kind of straw.

Farmers who are not in the habit of selling straw, but who can advantageously do so, should bale their surplus or arrange to do so during the present year. Since the war department naturally prefers to buy from those who can furnish large quantities regularly, individual farmers can either sell their surplus through regular trade channels or unite with each other and ship co-operatively.

Straw Is Valuable Product.

It is suggested that farmers consult their county agricultural agents regarding the cost of baling and shipping, the kind of straw in greatest demand, market grades and markets.

FLASHLIGHTS

It's a queer world. We've never been able to figure out why a man should magnify his troubles and belittle his joys.

Everything comes to him who waits, but the fellow who gets out and hustles is apt to get what he wants a little sooner.

Another thing the war has taught us is how fine some of the folks we viewed indifferently really were.

Of course the fellow who laughs first is sure of his laugh.

The Important Question.

It is all right to say that a bag of sand tied to a mule's tail will stop his braying, but who will do the tying?

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

JUNE FLOWERS.

"The sun was shining down upon an old-fashioned garden," commenced Daddy, "and as it was early morning, and the flowers had had their morning bath in dew water they were feeling very fresh and happy.

"We're Not Conceited."

"'This is certainly my time of the year,' said Miss Peony to her cousin, Mrs. Peony. Now Miss Peony was dressed in red and Mrs. Peony in white.

"'It's my time of the year, too,' said Mrs. Peony.

"'As for us,' said the little blue forget-me-nots, 'we love this month better than any other, though we like to stay on during the summer too, and see all that is going on. We came from the riverside where it was so damp and marshy that we were made strong and very beautiful. We're glad we can give so much pleasure too. So many children we have heard say that forget-me-nots were their favorite flowers.'

"'Ah,' said Sir Iris, 'we have many handsome suits to be worn by our family. They're quite magnificent. We are indeed almost like the royal family with our beautiful colors and handsome decorations.'

"'We're all glad to be beautiful because we give so much happiness,' said the little garden violets.

"'Ah, yes, we're not conceited,' said Master Blue Pansy, 'we just want to be as lovely looking as possible to make people happy.'

"'Do we make people happy?' asked the pink rose family.

"'Indeed we do,' said Miss Peony. 'People love to pick us and put us in their houses. We make the houses gay and fragrant and attractive. And some people like to wear us—they say we dress them up! Isn't that fine? And others say that we are more comfort when they are ill than all the medicine in the world.'

"'It's so nice to be a flower,' said the valerian or garden heliotrope.

"Most of the heliotropes had been planted from pots where they had been growing in hotbeds where they could grow very quickly.

"They were very fragrant and they loved to be just as sweet as ever they could be.

"'Listen flowers,' said the sun.

"'What is it?' they asked.

"'I've a secret to tell you.'

"'Good!' they all exclaimed. 'Mr. Sun has a secret to tell the flowers.'

"'What is the secret, Mr. Sun?' asked Miss Peony. 'We can hardly wait to hear.'

"'We can hardly wait to hear it,' whispered all the flowers as they swayed and moved a little in the soft summer breeze.

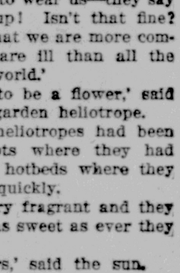
"'There are flowers which come in the spring,' said Mr. Sun. 'They are always so welcome because after a long winter of snow and hail and sleet people are so happy to see the flowers peep above the ground and whisper a good morning to all the world.

"'Children love to gather the early spring flowers and each child likes to find some flower the first of all.

"'In the autumn there are other beautiful flowers and people love them because the flowers are so soon to be frost bitten by old Jack Frost and his brothers. They like to see the flowers as long as possible.

"'In the summer the flowers are always very lovely and there are many of them. But in the winter there are only flowers in very warm climates, or in the houses where they grow in pots and flower boxes.

"'But June—June is the month of flowers. It's the month when roses are at their best—and you know a rose was chosen once to hold a very honorable place.'



"Listen, Flowers," Said the Sun.

"'The American Beauty rose,' the flowers all whispered. 'Yes, we know. The American Beauty rose was so tall and straight, so fine and beautiful and big that she and all her family were given that very great honor. And she has always proved that honor was given to her quite justly.'

"'Well,' continued the sun, 'all the great and beautiful family of roses are blooming in their most glorious and plentiful fashion in June, and so many other wonderful flowers are so gorgeous then that I call June the birthday month of flowers! Is that a nice secret?

"Every flower nodded its head and as they waved in the breeze they said, 'We're lucky June flowers. We belong to the birthday month of flowers!'"

To My Mother.

Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by two and three, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in all the wide world.—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Samuel Gompers says: "If worthy of citizenship in a free country, no man or woman will dissipate our man power and economic resources through purchase of things to merely gratify tastes or appearances. All purchases should be governed by this one dominating thought, 'will they in any manner retard the winning of the war?'"

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 27.—A good demand for stocks caused advances of one point or more on the stock market today. U. S. Steel Common was in persistent demand and on large buying rose one point to 110⅝. Bethlehem Steel B was 1 point higher at 87½. Mexican Petroleum was active, advancing 1⅝ to 101⅜. Reading sold up to 95 and Central Leather moved up 1⅝ to 72¾, while Distillers showed an upturn of 1⅜ to 61½. Around midday some profit taking caused fractional declines.

The market closed steady today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Douglas Fairbanks,

In "HEADIN' SOUTH."

"Doug" takes to "Greasers" like a duck takes to water—come and see what he can do with a crowd of our friends from "Over the Rio Grande"—It's a scream!

"You'd never dream it was washed!"

Sweaters just like new

THEY washed their sweaters themselves—right at home! With wonderful Lux suds!

And they came out soft—fluffy—not a bit shrunken—just like the day they were bought!

Lux is simply wonderful for woolens of any kind—sweaters, blankets, babies' clothes, scarfs, everything.

Why wool shrinks

The surface of wool fibre is made up of tiny overlapping scales, like the scales of a fish. When you rub wool, these scales get all tangled and twisted. When alkali touches them, the fibres draw up and tighten. Result—a stiff, matted, shrunken garment.

But Lux leaves your woolens like new because with Lux there is no rubbing! Nor one injurious element!

Lux comes in pure, transparent delicate flakes. They melt the instant they touch hot water. You whisk them into the foamiest lather. You soak the woolens in these wonderful suds. You don't have to rub them. Lux loosens the dirt. The dirt drops out into the suds.

How can they stay so white?

You will never forget your delight with the whiteness of woolens washed in Lux. When cake soap is rubbed on woolens, no matter how carefully you rinse, tiny bits of soap usually remain in the wool and yellow it.

With Lux that never happens. The hot water dissolves the delicate flakes instantly. You let the article soak in the hot Lux suds until the temperature is comfortable for your hands. You work it about in the thick suds, but don't rub. Then you rinse it thoroughly in three waters the same temperature as the first, with a little Lux dissolved in the last water to leave the woolens softer and fluffier.

Could anything be easier?

Get your package of Lux today at your grocer's, druggist's or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To wash colored sweaters

If you have not washed your sweater before, soak it for a few minutes in a solution of one cup of salt to one gallon of water—to set the color.

Whisk Lux into a rich lather in very hot water—two tablespoonfuls to the gallon. Add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Then put your sweater in, and swish it about in the suds. Wash quickly, pressing the suds through the sweater, but do not rub. Rinse three times in lukewarm water, and dissolve a little Lux in the last rinsing water to leave your sweater soft and woolly. Never wring sweaters. Just squeeze the water out, and spread on a towel to dry in the shade

Use Lux on anything that pure water alone will not harm.

RIFTON.

Rifton, June 27.—The entertainment given by the Rifton and Rocks schools Friday evening was a great success. In spite of the rainy night the hall was filled to its capacity. The stage was beautifully decorated with American flags and red roses. The following program was given: "Tenting Tonight," by girls dressed as Red Cross nurses and Evelyn Smith as Liberty and Graham Davis as Uncle Sam. "The Brownie Band," an operetta. As the introductory measures were played fourteen girls carrying baskets of flowers skipped in the stage singing the opening chorus. Then came a solo, "Two Little Baby Birds," by Elsie Jacobson. After this a duet, "Sweet Butterflies," by Eugenia Freer and Beatrice Shepstone. They looked very charming in their pale yellow dresses representing butterflies. This was followed by the chorus of "Gypsy Girls" carrying tambourines and wearing red and black dresses trimmed with tinsel. Then a solo, "Lost in the Woods" by Winifred Freer. This was greatly applauded. At the close of her solo the "Brownie Band" skipped lightly on the stage and sang. Then came the flower drill by twelve girls carrying garlands of flowers. This was very picturesque and was finely executed. As the drill ended the children formed two lines at each side of the stage and held their garlands as Hazel Jones danced in and sang "The Flower Song." Next was a solo, "The Fairy Princess," by Margaret Davis, dressed as a fairy. This was followed by a duet, "Billy Big-Eye and Tommy Long Wing," by Milton Freidman and Charles Freer. Then came the chorus of "Little Wee-Wees." Next a solo, "I'm a Brownie," by Joe McAllise. This received great applause. Following this was "The Fairy's Lullaby," by Alice Freer, dressed as a fairy queen. Then a chorus by the girls, "The Brownie Charm," followed by the chorus, "Home Again." Play in two acts, "A Perplexing Situation," by Robert Osterhoudt. Hazel Jones, Wilma Petroff, Alice, Eugenia and Charles Freer, Milton and Yetta Freidman, Margaret and Lloyd Davis, Beatrice Shepstone and Graham Davis. Solo, "Just a Bit of Cloth but It's Red, White and Blue," by Eugenia Freer. Duet, "A Soldier Boy and a Red Cross Maid," Hayward Eckert and Winifred Freer. Every number on the program was well rendered and the children deserve much credit, also their teachers, Miss Scharschu and Miss Devine, who worked so hard to make the entertainment a success.

Friday.

Breakfast—Prunes, hominy grits with top milk, *gingerbread, cocoa.

Lunch or Supper—Scalloped hominy, barley and cornmeal sticks, hot apple sauce.

Dinner—Broiled salt mackerel with hot cream, mashed potatoes, lettuce-sliced, endive and beet salad, *baked bananas with lemon juice.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Additional reasons for saving sugar have been added by the operations of the German U-boats off our Atlantic coast. Several of the ships sent to the bottom by them were bringing cargoes of this precious sweet to relieve our shortage. American housewives can answer the Hun prowler by saving more sugar than they have destroyed from our national larder.

Ginger Bread.

One-half cup fat, 1½ cups molasses, 1 cup boiling water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup corn flour, 1 cup buckwheat flour, 2 eggs.

Cream the fat, and add the molasses and the boiling water. Add the sifted dry ingredients to the first mixture. Add the eggs last. Bake the cake in a loaf or in a shallow pan in a moderate oven.

Scalloped Hominy With Peanuts.

Two tablespoons fat, 1 1-3 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup ground peanuts, 2-3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon minced onion salt, pepper, 1 cup cooked hominy.

Melt the fat, remove the pan from the heat and add the cornstarch. Stir the mixture until it is smooth. Add the milk, return the pan to the heat and cook the mixture until it thickens, stirring it constantly. In a greased baking dish place alternate layers of hominy and sauce and peanuts. Bake the dish in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes.

Barley and Cornmeal Sticks.

¾ cup barley flour, ¾ cup cornmeal, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 egg, ½ cup milk.

Sift together the dry ingredients and cut in the fat. Add the beaten egg and the milk, and mix the ingredients well. Turn the mixture on a board and shape it into small, oblong rolls. Bake the rolls in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes. These rolls are good served with salad.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

EIGHTH GRADE COMMENCEMENT

One thing is certain, and that is that during these commencement days the people of Kingston are becoming acquainted with the beauties of the high school auditorium as never before, and are becoming at home there. On Wednesday afternoon another large audience practically filling the auditorium, assembled to do honor to the boys and girls who graduated from our public schools. There were ninety-four graduates, and each school was, as is the custom, represented by one speaker.

The program opened with music by Muller's orchestra, and the first recitation was given by Marie J. Mower, of School No. 1, who gave an excellent presentation of "Twenty Years Ago," a homey poem with much of human nature's fondness for praising the things of the past.

The next number was so remarkable as to call for special comment. Joseph H. Forman, of School No. 7, 12 years of age, recited "Stand Fast Ye Free," taken from Henry Van Dyke's article appearing in the November, 1917, issue of Scribner's Magazine, entitled "Fighting for Peace." The remarkable mental feat of memorizing this lengthy and able article was worthy of note, but was not to be compared with "Joe's" appreciation of every sentence in the article wherein occurs an exceedingly clever dialogue between "The Burglar" and "Mr. Householder," symbolizing Germany and the Allies, and paralleling the war situation as only Van Dyke could do it. Not one point, especially where the Burglar tried to bulldoze Mr. Householder into accepting "peace at any price," escaped the young orator, who, if spared, may be of very real service to his country in the years to come.

Following another orchestral selection, and every orchestral number was sufficiently enjoyed to call forth applause, J. Donald Steinert, of School No. 6, recited "The Meaning of America." "America" was shown by this also excellent young orator, not to depend upon the blood flowing in the veins of any man, since so many races go to make "America." It was the true American spirit of political liberty that made America. A good bit of history was recited to prove this fact, and in closing Steinert said, "In the Revolution America fought until it made the country safe for freedom and democracy. Now the time has come which demands that America shall fight to more permanently establish for all time American freedom and democracy throughout the entire world."

School No. 4 was represented by Carl J. Schantz, who gave a stirring, manly and appreciative recital of "The Story of Old Glory," one of our best modern patriotic poems, with its sentence pictures of the great men of American history.

Another orchestral selection was followed by a recitation, "A Tragedy in Millinery," taken from that charming book, "Rebecca," wherein Eleanor Reading, of School No. 2, gave a feeling and remarkable sympathetic recital of Rebecca's struggles with the hated porcupine quills and the hat that would not wear out. The humor of the story as told by Eleanor Reading appealed to all but especially to the girls and women present.

There was biting sarcasm in "Yellow," recited by Gladys Reynolds, of School No. 5, who fully appreciated every point made by the yellow cur, who mean and no-account as he was, could yet hold high both head and tail as he congratulated himself that he was not yet so mean as the enemy alien who having gained all in this fair land has yet turned against it; nor the political pacifist, especially in the halls of our senate and house of representatives.

The orchestra then stood to a man and played "Star Spangled Banner," the entire assemblage rising in honor of our national anthem.

Another splendid recitation was admirably given by Florence Stone, of School No. 3, whose subject, "To America," was a plea for the rewriting of our school histories to coincide with the present times, doing away with the old spirit of hatred [illegible] Britain and instead putting forth the present glory of our union with all the allied nations now fighting for the real and lasting peace of the world.

The last recitation was especially thrilling and appropriate to the times. It was entitled "The Presentation of the Flags," and was given with spirit and understanding by Dorothy D. Kennedy, of School No. 8, who made a very realistic presentation of first, our own Stars and Stripes, then the flags of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and France.

The afternoon's program closed with words of congratulation and wise and kindly advice from Superintendent M. J. Michael and H. H. Flemming, president of the board of education, who presented the certificates of graduation to the representatives of each class, to be by them distributed to the class members.

ANTI-LOAFING LAW.

Local Boards Instructed to Carefully Consider Circumstances.

Local Boards for Division No. 1 and 2 of Ulster county received this morning from the adjutant general's office a bulletin asking the boards to consider the various circumstances in the cases of enforcing the anti-loafing law which goes into effect the first of July. The bulletin says that in many instances it requires time to make a change from one position to another and unnecessary hardships must not be worked upon the registrant. This is especially true when the man is occupying what may be termed a respectable position, in other words a position which in peace time is useful in the business world but which in war times becomes non-productive, owing to the fact that it can be occupied by a woman who is not able to take a place on the firing line.

Men and women who enjoy a good story, artistically told on the screen, cannot afford to miss

Borden's EAGLE BRAND

Food Is Baby's Greatest Need

Before baby understands a word or recognizes objects, he knows and wants food. For months food is baby's chief want—his greatest need.

"Be sure the Eagle is on the label"

Satisfying his hunger is not enough. Baby's food must do more—it must build bone and muscle, lay the foundation for a healthy body in later years.

Borden's Eagle Brand, next to Nature's own food, has been the standard infant food for 60 years. Prepared from pure, rich, cow's milk—always uniform in quality—always safe, summer and winter—Eagle Brand has often proved to be the only food that babies can retain. Little stomachs digest Eagle Brand readily, assimilate it without over work.

Eagle Brand is always safe and pure.

A FEW MEATLESS SOUPS.

When soup is served in the meal as a food rather than a preparation of the stomach for hearty foods is should be prepared with that end in view. Cream soups are both nourishing and palatable and may be used freely as a main dish.

Asparagus Soup. — In these days of everybody with a garden we should have our own asparagus bed; once started it will be a source of profit for years. Take a bundle of asparagus, cut off the heads and put them aside for a more delicate dish. Cover the shoots, after cutting in small pieces, with a quart of water and cook until the asparagus is tender. Rub through a colander and add this pulp with the liquor used in cooking to a pint of milk. Cook together two tablespoonfuls of corn or barley flour and two tablespoonfuls of sweet fat; stir into the soup and bring to boiling point. Serve with popcorn.

Celery Soup.—Put two tablespoonfuls of sweet fat in a saucepan, and when bubbling hot add a slice of onion; cook until brown, then add a pint of cabbage water (water saved when cooking cabbage), four carrots ground fine, all stewed gently for an hour in a tight kettle; then add two tablespoonfuls of butter.

Turnip Soup.—Put a tablespoonful of butter, one slice of onion and three slices of carrot into a saucepan and stir over the heat until the onion is yellow; then add four good-sized turnips which have been ground through the meat chopper. Cover and let simmer without water over slow heat. There should be a pint of pulp; after 20 minutes add a quart of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter blended with the same amount of flour, using barley or corn flour; a half teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet; salt and pepper to taste. Serve with croutons.

Clear Tomato Soup.—Add a pint of water to a quart of tomatoes, a slice of onion, a half a bay leaf, a dash of celery salt and a few celery tops, a teaspoonful of salt and a chopped green pepper. Cook all together 15 minutes, then bind with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and butter cooked together.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT ON TWO FIRES

An alarm of fire rung in from Box No. 95 at 1:30 o'clock this morning called the fire department to Joy's Lane where a shed in the rear of the residence of Jane C. Stoutenberg on Washington avenue was on fire. The shed with its contents was destroyed.

About 10 o'clock this morning an alarm was rung in from Box No. 112, West Shore Railroad and Flatbush avenue. The fire was in the boiler room of the woodworking shop of Buckley & Schryver on Foxhall avenue. It was caused by a back draft which set fire to a pile of shavings. The boiler room was badly damaged and it is estimated the loss will total about $200. The fire was confined to the room in which it started.

Menu Prizes Won by H. S. Pupils.

It should be of interest to the women of the community and all those interested in the domestic science work at the high school, to know that he three young ladies who won the Chamber of Commerce prizes offered for best, most nutritious and least expensive menus, were members of the domestic science classes of the high school in charge of Miss Davis. For the benefit of those busy housewives, who have not had the benefit of a high school domestic science course, and whose dictionaries, like that of The Freeman reporter, do not deal with culinary specialties, it should be stated that "croutons," mentioned in two out of the three menu winning prizes, are nothing more than crusts, especially of toasted buttered bread, cut into small ubes and used with soup in the place of crackers.

No Royal Road to Old Age.

Unhappily there is no agreement on the recipe for living to a ripe old age, although every centenarian believes he has the secret. The fact is, there is a good deal of luck about it. Of course everybody knows that the person who starts in with a good physique and lives happily and temperately and usefully has the advantage over the person who inherits a weak body and doesn't take care of himself. But even among those who have everything in their favor many fail to reach the four score years of the psalmist.

President Wilson and the best thinkers of the country say it is the duty of the public to have clean, wholesome amusement. See

EXCITING SCHOOL SESSION.

Friday evening an exciting and amusing school session will be held in the chapel of the Ponckhockie Union Church on Abruyn street when "Ye Olde Time School" will be presented by the young people of that section of the city under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church. The school will hold two sessions, the first being devoted to "lessons" and the second session to "recitations and speaking pieces." Among those taking part in the school session will be R. H. Van Valkenburgh, Harold L. Van Deusen, Harold Darling, George Kent, John Kolts, Webster Crane, Herman Gunter, Harry Conklin, Harvey Kolts, Ernest Heppner, Alfred W. Buley and the Misses Viola Berryan, Llewelyna Gill, Lillian Metcalf, Ethel Skelton, Anna Winchell, Ruth Gill, Helen Planthaber and Mrs. Walter Tammany. Miss Hilda Spalt is the pianist. Indoor Circus a Success.

The indoor circus given by the Daughters of Isabella on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Mrs. P. H. Cullen, was a great success both socially and financially. All who took part did their act well. The enthusiastic performers and audience ended the evening by singing the Star Spangled Banner, led by Mrs. William Leary. The Daughters wished to donate a sum to charity and that sum has been more than realized.

President Hibben, of Princeton University, says: "A world in need has sent forth across the waters its cry to us for help. We can not respond and at the same time continue our comfortable, easy-going mode of existence. The times demand sacrifice, and sacrifice can no longer be free from suffering."

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Downs street, which is being laid with Willite, is expected to be completed this evening and thrown open to traffic on Friday.

So far 32 women aliens have registered at police headquarters There are a few more who are expected to register.

Measles are still on the wane in Kingston and Wednesday but three new cases were reported to the board of health.

Owing to the fact that the summer vacation permits allowing school children to work during July and August will not allow the possessors to work in factories of the city, the health board will not be rushed with children securing permits. As has been explained before, school children in order to secure work in factories must first obtain a working certificate In order to do that they have to have taken the regular school course and have passed the sixth grade in grammar school.

If the summer permits had permitted work in factories the health board was expecting to be called upoh to issue fully five hundred of the permits.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, June 27.—Class Day exercises of the local high school were held in the Auditorium Tuesday evening, commencing at 8:15 o'clock, and the very excellent program, as arranged, occupied but an hour's time and was enjoyed to the profit of all in attendance. The class, which has fifteen members, were seated upon the platform as curtain was drawn, seated as very much at home In the back of stage upon the wall was placed, in the center, the large flag, while below was suspended a service flag with three stars, which stood for three members of the class who were in their country's service, Myron Smith, Richmond Campbell and Robert Thornton, and to the pleasure of all, especially the class members, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Thornton, were privileged to be present. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of young Mr. Simrin of a Liberty Bond taken out by the class and now given over to the school. On behalf of the Board of Education, Principal R. W. Thompson accepted the gift, with well chosen words; also stated that he had had been with the Ellenville schools four years, coming as this class entered the high school, and leaving the school at the end of the graduating exercises are over, therefore feeling that the class was indeed his class. Mr. Thompson has accepted the position of superintendent of the schools at Deposit and enters upon his work there in September. Each number on the program received its share of well-merited applause. Class flower, blacked-eyed Susan; class colors, orange and black; class motto, "Mens sana in sano corpore" (a sound mind in a sound body.)

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE IS NOT PARTISAN

Also it Refused to Mix With the Disloyal Western Organization or With the Federation of Agriculture Politicians.

The Dairymen's League has sent out another in the series of statements it is making about the Federation of Agriculture, the political job-chasing organization formed in this state recently for the purpose of stirring up discontent. In its latest statements the League says:

Last week we announced that we would state the reasons why the Dairymen's League, the State Grange, and other large organizations of farmers had repudiated the so-called Federation of Agriculture. The Rural New Yorker, of which John J. Dillon is publisher, criticized them for this, and suggested that the leaders of these different farm organizations feared that another would be created that they could not control.

The absurdity of this is obvious.

The so-called Federation of Agriculture is distinctly a political party.

The board of directors of the League have insisted that they have no right to commit their members to the support of any political party. Our membership, as well as our bord of directors, is composed of men of all parties. The League is a great business organization. To permit itself to be committed to any political party, old or new, would mean shipwreck. The members of the League should and must be left at absolute liberty to join or refuse to join any political party, and they would have a just right to resent an attempt on the part of their officers to prevent this.

Non-Partisan League Invited Here.

The stockholders at their annual meeting last December, having refused to endorse the so-called Non-Partisan League, a conference was called a few days later to which was invited Mr. Townley of Minnesota, president of the Non-Partisan League. Officers of the League were invited and this was an effort to again commit the League to this new political party.

This Non-Partisan League has been denounced as disloyal. So objectionable has it become to the farmers in Minnesota that last week at the primaries it was overwhelmingly defeated. We quote the headline of an article appearing in the New York World of Sunday, June 23rd:

"LOYAL MINNESOTA SWEEPS TOWNLEY'S LEAGUE TO DEFEAT Non-Partisan Party, Exposed Last Winter by the World, Fails in Effort to Carry Out Its Anti-War Aims. In Sympathy With I. W. W.; Against Draft and Loans. Leader Attempted to Gain Recruits Here."

The Dairymen's League and the State Grange, refusing to commit themselves to this propaganda, it fell flat. It is only just to state that the gentlemen who sought to establish the Non-Partisan League here had no knowledge of its disloyal activities.

It was, however, only the resolute stand taken by the Dairymen's League and the State Grange that prevented its introduction into the state.

Some other method of creating a new political party was then sought and attention was directed to the so-called Federation of Agriculture. Control of it was soon obtained and its entire methods and policies changed from what it was at first proposed to be, namely a federation of agricultural associations of the state, into a political party. They print a form of constitution and by-laws that read innocent enough; their entire activities are, however, political. They print in italics the statement that

"no officer of the Federation shall hold any state office."

This is so transparent that it should deceive no one. The real dictators of it are not its officers. In passing it may be noticed that although Mr. Dillon is one of its leaders, his name does not appear on its list of officers as published, and he is therefore at liberty to accept any nomination.

League Members Are Free Men.

The officers of the League, as at present constituted, will forever stand for liberty of each one of their members to join any political party they desire. Their organization has no authority to deliver them to any political party, and neither Mr. Dillon nor anyone else has a right to criticize the League, the State Grange, and other large organizations of farmers for refusing to join such a movement. Our members would have a just right to rebuke their officers should they attempt to do this.

The result of the attempts of the League to obtain legislation at Albany at the last session of the legislature shows that this organization is strong in that it refuses to commit itself to any party, but holds its entire weight of influence ready to be hurled against any man or measure that is opposing good government, and in favor of any man or measure that stands for the industrial freedom of its members.

Whatever, therefore, may be the conscious purpose of Mr. Dillon and his associates in attempting to commit the farm organization of the state to a political party, its effect would be disastrous. Every farm organization that has ever attempted this has gone down to ruin

Because the officers of the Dairymen's League have refused to thus betray their constituents is one of the reasons for the attacks made by Mr. Dillon upon the League.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, June 27.—Plans are all perfected for the Independence Day celebration to be held on the lawn of the Cottekill Reformed Church on July 4th, unless stormy, then on the next fair afternoon and evening. At 8 p. m. a ball game, which will be worth witnessing, will be played between the men of the church and the Boy Scouts of this place. At 6 p. m. a first class supper will be served. The quality of suppers served on these occasions are so well known that it is not necessary to comment on them. At 8:15 p. m. a free entertainment will be given in the church consisting of songs, solos, duets, recitations, etc., also an addres by the pastor of the church, the Rev. C. N. Stevens. Do not fail to attend this entertainment. A silver offering will be taken at the close of the entertainment. A full line of refreshments will be on sale, both afternoon and evening. Beneficial Shorebirds.

All the shorebirds are strikingly beneficial in their food habits. The slaughter of these game birds deprives the farmer of valuable allies against some of the worst crop pests. Such game birds as quail, grouse and pheasant take less insect food than the shorebirds, yet all of them do a certain amount of good. Even hawks and owls have a bad name which for the most part is undeserved. It is said, and indiscriminate persecution of these birds is a serious mistake.

OUR CAMP UPTON BOYS IN ENGLAND

Their Voyage Across and Their Stay in England While Awaiting Transport to France Described in a Very Interesting Letter.

The following letter was received by the parents of a young man from an adjoining county, who is in the regiment in which most of the Ulster county men who went to Camp Upton are:

Co. E, Bat. 306th Inf., A. E. F., via New York
April 29, 1918.

Dear Parents:

This is the first opportunity I have had to write since I arrived I mailed you a card on the train, as I was leaving Camp Upton on April 12, and also mailed a card as we were about to embark stating "I have arrived safely." Both of these cards no doubt reached you by this time.

The letter I sent you before was mailed on the boat, and was censored, and therefore could write but little.

We went from Camp Upton to Boston and boarded the ship from there and then went back to New York harbor, after which we sailed direct out. We were aboard the boat 15 days, although our trip across took us 12 days. We landed in Liverpool Sunday at noon, 4 28, and took the train from there about 6 p m, arrived at Folkestone (England) on Monday morning at 2 o'clock (today). We are placed in various houses, formerly hotels, which have been abandoned and we are allowed to roam about the village or rather city (35,000) while here, although I think we shall leave for France this evening or tomorrow morning.

The trip across was interesting and I was not seasick, but felt a bit strange the first night at sea as it was quite rough. We found calm weather coming over during most of the trip, but we had a couple of stormy days.

There is a shortage of sugar in England, and we drink our coffee unsweetened; also one is restricted to eating, and is only allowed a certain amount, but still the pinch isn't felt as badly here as I imagine it must be in France.

I know you must have worried about me during the time you have not heard, but please stop worrying and make the best of it all. War isn't a pleasant thing, and we must take things as they come.

I shall try and write each week at least, and keep you informed as much as possible about conditions.

I am thankful that I am well and can say that I am looking at everything in the best of spirits.

There are a lot of fine boys in the service, who have all left good homes, so that you must realize I am not the only one, and should take things the way they come.

It is my wish that you enjoy yourselves as much as possible, take your regular auto trips on Sunday and be as comfortable as you can, and in doing this you will please me better than anything else you can do for me. We have been told that we may reach the trenches in thirty days. This may not be official and it may be two or even three months, but if the war continues you must realize that I am bound to be in active service sooner or later, and my life may be in danger, and I want you or rather I sincerely wish that whatever happens you will consider it God's will and will not make yourselves miserable.

I am very hopeful and it may be that I should soon return well and strong, but am not keeping anything from you, and want you to know the truth at all times. The war may be over before we see active service, or something may turn up as Micawber used to say in David Copperfield, but still one should always prepare for the inevitable or the hand of fate.

It seems strange how happy and contented we all are; none of us seem to realize any danger whatever, and I believe that is the best way, but still I never believed in deceptions or giving false impressions.

The newspapers in England give me an idea of conditions and all realize that it requires every available man and all means possible, if the Germans are to be beaten. England has lost quite some men, but still the fight goes on. The Germans seem to push their way on, and are giving the whole world the light of their lives, although all hope for a decision soon, but I believe none can come unless the powers decide to compromise. That is the only way to end the war quickly, and I am hoping for such a compromise and it doesnt seem unreasonable either.

I have found the English people very courteous and obliging and have enjoyed talking with them. American soldiers are to be seen today all over the streets of Folkestone, the place I am in for the time being, and we are all in a rest camp for 24 or 36 hours or so, it is hard to tell how long.

I have decided to write to no one but home to you and you can answer all inquiries of friends and convey my best wishes and regards to all friends and relatives. It is harder to write now than before, and I am making the best of the few hours of rest to write mail that isn't censored. My letters from camp will all be censored and we can write nothing about military life, only personal matters, but still that is all you care to know anyway; you can read enough war news in the papers.

I often think of home and keep hoping that you will not worry about me if I only knew that you were happy and would enjoy yourselves as though I were home, I should feel very happy indeed.

I have always believed in predestination, and I still believe that God controls every move and whatever happens is part of a great plan and all for the best, so that I am happy in my belief and I should like to know that you are happy too.

We are all seeing things new and interesting and have little chance to brood or worry and we shouldn't worry if we had the chance, because we don't want to think of only the pleasant part of our life.

These last two months have been months of wonder and interest. Then, too, they have given me more knowledge of human life and of characters of men than ever before, and they have given me a chance to know that one can do many things which he wouldn't believe before.

I shall be glad to hear from you often. Keep me posted of home life and conditions and tell others to write even though I do not write to them.

It is interesting to see how narrow the streets are in Folkstone and to purchase articles with shillings, sixpence, pennies and half pennies. Most of the boys have to trust to the honesty of the shop keepers, but I always reckon the value in American money and count my change on the same basis and have caught on pretty well already during the few hours we have been allowed out of camp. The English accent is very marked and sounds strange, but I enjoy it.

My time is limited, and I have written considerable, and hope to write you many more letters, but before closing I wish once more to impress upon you my desire that you will be happy and not worry about me whatever happens, because I am in the hands of a higher power. Who knows what is best.

Goodbye and God bless you both. My love to you all. I shall probably be in France tonight or tomorrow, but may not see the firing line for a long time.

Your devoted son,
MARKIE

First African Explorer.

The first organized attempt to explore the interior of Africa was made by Mungo Park, who set sail on his initial voyage to the Dark Continent 123 years ago. He returned two years and seven months later after having explored a considerable section of Africa never before visited by a white man, although he failed in his main purpose, which was to trace the source of the River Niger.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

SIGN UP BEFORE FRIDAY

Every American citizen, every adult of earning capacity in Kingston and Ulster county will be required to line up and sign a pledge card at appointed stations on June 28th unless he or she has already signed a pledge card to take and pay for War Stamps and has given this pledge card to one of the workers in the drive that is now under way.

SIGN PLEDGE CARD FOR THE LIMIT

To sign a pledge card and agree to take and pay for one or two or three War Stamps, at a little over $4 each, when you can without undue inconvenience sign a card to take and pay for five or ten or twenty stamps, is simply seeking to do as little as you can toward helping the government of the United States win the war and make the world safe for democracy, instead of doing all that you can.

Uncle Sam is looking to you, to each and every American citizen, at this time to loan your money generously to him. He is seeking to perform a great service for you and for your children, and your children's children. And he has a right to ask you to give your money to enable him to carry on his undertaking.

But instead of this he is simply asking you to loan your money, and at a good rate of interest, and he promises to return it, every penny of it, and with interest accrued.

Under these conditions and circumstances, who is there that does not want to loan all that is possible to loan?

Sign a pledge card that will reflect your interest in the fight Uncle Sam is making, that will reflect your confidence in your government and that will reflect your genuine Americanism.

Then your card will stand scrutiny. Then you will not have to get in line on National War Savings Day, which is designated by the President and by the Governor, to be June 28th.

WAR SAVINGS PLEDGE WEEK

Ulster County and Kingston Must be Put Over the Top

War Savings Stamps are the best investment that any government has ever offered to its people

I. They are safe as to principal.

Banks, stock corporations and trust companies have been known to fail. The government has never failed and it never will unless the people fail. It's up to you.

II. They are safe against loss.

A War Saving Certificate with any number of Stamps on it can be registered at any 1st, 2nd or 3rd class post office. Subsequent Stamps can be registered as they are affixed. When thus registered the government will make repayment even though the certificate is lost or stolen. No one else can realize on your property. The merchants of one town in Georgia had their certificates registered and then placed them in their store windows with such signs as "Better Than Money." "We're Not Afraid of Fire," "We're Not Afraid of Burglars," "If We Lose Them We Get Our Money Anyway."

III. The entire principal plus the interest is available at any time.

By giving notice to the post office an owner can at any time that he may need his money have his entire investment returned to him one hundred cents on the dollar together with interest at the rate of one cent per month for each War Saving Stamp. No loss whatsoever is suffered and no fee need be paid to anyone.

IV. They are bound to increase in value.

This is the only security that will never depreciate in value. It can never go down and will never be sold on any stock exchange. The value is constant and interest is always accumulating.

V. Small sums draw interest.

You only have to save a little over $4.00 and your money starts to draw interest. The investment is within reach of all. You do not have to save a large amount before you begin to get a return on your money.

VI. They drawer better interest than Liberty Bonds.

If you put Liberty Bonds away in a drawer for five years the interest that accumulates ceases to draw interest the minute it becomes due, but if you lock up War Savings Stamps the interest draws new interest every three months and at no time is any of the money lying idle.

VII. It is only a loan and not a gift.

You get all your money back together with interest in less than five years. You do not have to wait a long time before your investment is returned.

VIII. It is rendering a genuinely patriotic service.

The government needs money and the man who does not begrudge lending is giving 100 per cent. service. Keep it up. Lend some every month.

IX. It is a clean investment.

There can never be any liability or worry. Stick your certificates away for five years and forget them. They will never fail you. They are more secure than gold. You can lose gold.

X. They are available for purchase the whole year.

You can start your money drawing interest at any time this year. They are on sale until December 31st. Whenever you have any money there is good interest waiting for you. You are not restricted to four weeks in which to buy and you do not have to wait six months before you can invest and get interest again. Don't let your money lie idle, save for the rainy day that may come after the war. Your money back with 3 per cent. interest any time on demand before January 1st, 1923.

WSS

The time is past when we must apologize to Americans for telling them to do their plain duty.

WSS

Saving is the best life insurance. He who saves will never worry.

WSS

The man who says he is unable to pledge to buy any Stamps and gives as his excuse that he has already bought some thereby demonstrates that he is able to buy again. Don't let him stall.

WSS

The man who lends once has only just learned the lesson of patriotism, the man who lends is patriotic but the man who lends and lends and lends and never stops to count—he is a real patriot. This is the time of our national need. We must all be patriots.

WSS

At a time when men are offering their lives it is a privilege to be permitted to LEND money.

WSS

Pledge now. Buy later. Don't delay.

WSS

Ask the man who says he is unable to pledge because he is paying installments on his Liberty Bonds which Loan they are. If they are of the Second Loan nail him for he will be able to take stamps in November and December.

WSS

The man who gives as his excuse for not buying stamps the reason that he has bought Bonds has only just started to wake up. He should get the habit. He gets Democracy all the time why should he do his bit only once? The Stamps are at least as good as the Bonds.

WSS

A great responsibility rests on the solicitor. He must decide fairly whether a man is able to buy when he says he cannot. THE SLACKER MUST BE ROOTED OUT. BUT THE POOR MAN MUST NOT BE ABUSED.

WSS

The man who says he does not want to be bothered with Stamps and prefers to put large sums into Liberty Bonds does not seem to realize that oak trees grow from acorns and that today the government is crying for acorns. It is worse to ignore the government's small requests than to heed the large. Refusers have more ready followers than givers. Don't set a bad example. Lead. don't lag. Nothing the government asks can be too small or too much bother.

WSS

There are only three kinds of people who will not lend.—the fool. the ignorant and the traitor. the fool wants no help, the ignorant we will help the traitor—God help.

WSS

The time has come when we can recognize only two kinds of citizens in this country. Americans and others. Smoke the others out.

WAR AT A GLANCE

In the absence of any grand operations on the battle fronts, chief public interest today turned towards the political storm which has been aroused in Germany by the speeches of Foreign Secretary Richard von Kuhlmann and Chancellor von Hertling.

Von Ludendorff has turned against von Kuhlmann and it is persistently reported the latter will resign.

The kaiser is reported to have given his consent to the selection of a new foreign secretary.

In the meanwhile the Socialists are up in arms and Dr. Haase, chief leader of the Independent Socialists in the Reichstag, delivered a bitter attack against the recent speech of the kaiser and against the militarists.

Austria was accused of deliberately starting the war with the sanction of Germany.

The Vorwaerts of Berlin, chief organ of the German Socialists, is demanding "A clean government" with a chancellor who will really hold authority instead of one who is the puppet of von Ludendorff.

MARKET DEMAND FOR STRAW FOR BEDDING

Commodity Will Now Bring Good Margin of Profit to Farmer.

Large Number of Horses and Mules in Army Camps Has Materially Increased Prices for Commodity—Bale All Surplus.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Nearly a third of a million of horses and mules have been removed from farms and ranges and placed in army camps. This has increased the market demand for straw for bedding several hundred tons per week.

The prices at army camps and large markets have naturally influenced the price of this commodity on local markets, and the straw that was formerly burned or allowed to be trampled down by stock will now bring enough on the market to leave a good margin of profit to farmers over the cost of baling and shipping. The market price of straw is now between $8 and $20 per ton, and there is a good demand for almost any kind of straw.

Farmers who are not in the habit of selling straw, but who can advantageously do so, should bale their surplus or arrange to do so during the present year. Since the war department naturally prefers to buy from those who can furnish large quantities regularly, individual farmers can either sell their surplus through regular trade channels or unite with each other and ship co-operatively.

It is suggested that farmers consult their county agricultural agents regarding the cost of baling and shipping, the kind of straw in greatest demand, market grades and markets.

FLASHLIGHTS

It's a queer world. We've never been able to figure out why a man should magnify his troubles and belittle his joys.

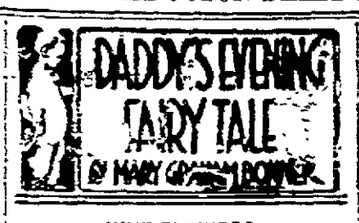
Everything comes to him who waits, but the fellow who gets out and hustles is apt to get what he wants a little sooner.

Another thing the war has taught us is how fine some of the folks we viewed indifferently really were.

Of course the fellow who laughs first is sure of his laugh.

The Important Question.

It is all right to say that a bag of sand tied to a mule's tail will stop his braying, but who will do the tying?



JUNE FLOWERS.

"The sun was shining down upon an old-fashioned garden," commenced Daddy, "and as it was early morning, and the flowers had had their morning bath in dew water they were feeling very fresh and happy.

"We're Not Conceited."

"'This is certainly my time of the year,' said Miss Peony to her cousin, Mrs. Peony. Now Miss Peony was dressed in red and Mrs. Peony in white.

"'It's my time of the year, too,' said Mrs. Peony.

"'As for us,' said the little blue forget-me-nots, 'we love this month better than any other, though we like to stay on during the summer too, and see all that is going on. We came from the riverside where it was so damp and marshy that we were made strong and very beautiful. We're glad we can give so much pleasure too. So many children we have heard say that forget-me-nots were their favorite flowers.'

"'Ah,' said Sir Iris, 'we have many handsome suits to be worn by our family. They're quite magnificent. We are indeed almost like the royal family with our beautiful colors and handsome decorations.'

"'We're all glad to be beautiful because we give so much happiness,' said the little garden violets.

"'Ah, yes, we're not conceited,' said Master Blue Pansy, 'we just want to be as lovely looking as possible to make people happy.'

"'Do we make people happy?' asked the pink rose family.

"'Indeed we do,' said Miss Peony. 'People love to pick us and put us in their houses. We make the houses gay and fragrant and attractive. And some people like to wear us—they say we dress them up! Isn't that fine? And others say that we are more comfort when they are ill than all the medicine in the world.'

"'It's so nice to be a flower,' said the valerian or garden heliotrope.

"Most of the heliotropes had been planted from pots where they had been growing in hotbeds where they could grow very quickly.

"They were very fragrant and they loved to be just as sweet as ever they could be.

"'Listen flowers,' said the sun.

"'What is it?' they asked.

"'I've a secret to tell you.'

"'Good!' they all exclaimed. 'Mr. Sun has a secret to tell the flowers.'

"'What is the secret, Mr. Sun?' asked Miss Peony. 'We can hardly wait to hear.'

"'We can hardly wait to hear it,' whispered all the flowers as they swayed and moved a little in the soft summer breeze.

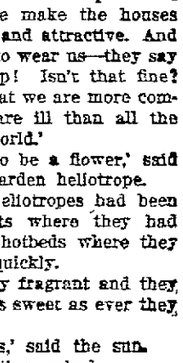
"'There are flowers which come in the spring,' said Mr. Sun. 'They are always so welcome because after a long winter of snow and hail and sleet people are so happy to see the flowers peep above the ground and whisper a good morning to all the world.

"'Children love to gather the early spring flowers and each child likes to find some flower the first of all.

"'In the autumn there are other beautiful flowers and people love them because the flowers are so soon to be frost bitten by old Jack Frost and his brothers. They like to see the flowers as long as possible.

"'In the summer the flowers are always very lovely and there are many of them. But in the winter there are only flowers in very warm climates, or in the houses where they grow in pots and flower boxes.

"'But June—June is the month of flowers. It's the month when roses are at their best—and you know a rose was chosen once to hold a very honorable place.'



"Listen, Flowers," Said the Sun.

"'The American Beauty rose,' the flowers all whispered. 'Yes, we know. The American Beauty rose was so tall and straight, so fine and beautiful and big that she and all her family were given that very great honor. And she has always proved that honor was given to her quite justly.'

"'Well,' continued the sun, 'all the great and beautiful family of roses are blooming in their most glorious and plentiful fashion in June, and so many other wonderful flowers are so gorgeous then that I call June the birthday month of flowers! Is that a nice secret?'

"Every flower nodded its head and as they waved in the breeze they said, 'We're lucky June flowers. We belong to the birthday month of flowers!'"

To My Mother.

Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by two and three, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in all the wide world.—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Samuel Gompers says: "If worthy of citizenship in a free country, no man or woman will dissipate our man power and economic resources through purchase of things to merely gratify tastes or appearances. All purchases should be governed by this one dominating thought, 'will they in any manner retard the winning of the war?'"

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 27.—A good demand for stocks caused advances of one point or more on the stock market today. U. S. Steel Common was in persistent demand and on large buying rose one point to 110⅝. Bethlehem Steel B was 1 point higher at 87½. Mexican Petroleum was active, advancing 1⅝ to 101⅝. Reading sold up to 95 and Central Leather moved up 1⅝ to 72¾, while Distillers showed an upturn of 1⅝ to 61½. Around midday some profit taking caused fractional declines.

The market closed steady today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

EIGHTH GRADE COMMENCEMENT

One thing is certain, and that is that during these commencement days the people of Kingston are becoming acquainted with the beauties of the high school auditorium as never before, and are becoming at home there. On Wednesday afternoon another large audience practically filling the auditorium, assembled to do honor to the boys and girls who graduated from our public schools. There were ninety-four graduates, and each school was, as is the custom, represented by one speaker.

The program opened with music by Muller's orchestra, and the first recitation was given by Marie J. Mower, of School No. 1, who gave an excellent presentation of "Twenty Years Ago," a homey poem with much of human nature's fondness for praising the things of the past.

The next number was so remarkable as to call for special comment. Joseph H. Forman, of School No. 7, 12 years of age, recited "Stand Fast Ye Free," taken from Henry Van Dyke's article appearing in the November, 1917, issue of Scribner's Magazine, entitled "Fighting for Peace." The remarkable mental feat of memorizing this lengthy and able article was worthy of note, but was not to be compared with "Joe's" appreciation of every sentence in the article wherein occurs an exceedingly clever dialogue between "The Burglar" and "Mr Householder," symbolizing Germany and the Allies, and paralleling the war situation as only Van Dyke could do it. Not one point, especially where the Burglar tried to bulldoze Mr. Householder into accepting "peace at any price," escaped the young orator who, if spared, may be of very real service to his country in the years to come.

Following another orchestral selection, and every orchestral number was sufficiently enjoyed to call forth applause, J. Donald Steinert, of School No. 6, recited "The Meaning of America." "America" was shown by this also excellent young orator, not to depend upon the blood flowing in the veins of any man, since so many races go to make "America," It was the true American spirit of political liberty that made America. A good bit of history was recited to prove this fact, and in closing Steinert said, "In the Revolution America fought until it made the country safe for freedom and democracy. Now the time has come which demands that America shall fight to more permanently establish for all time American freedom and democracy throughout the entire world."

School No. 4 was represented by Carl J. Schantz, who gave a stirring, manly and appreciative recital of "The Story of Old Glory," one of our best modern patriotic poems, with its sentence pictures of the great men of American history.

Another orchestral selection was followed by a recitation, "A Tragedy in Millinery," taken from that charming book, "Rebecca," wherein Eleanor Reading, of School No. 2, gave a feeling and remarkable sympathetic recital of Rebecca's struggles with the hated peroxide quills and the hat that would not wear out. The humor of the story as told by Eleanor Reading appealed to all but especially to the girls and women present.

There was biting sarcasm in "Yellow," recited by Gladys Reynolds, of School No. 5, who fully appreciated every point made by the yellow cur, who mean and no-account as he was, could yet hold high both head and tail as he congratulated himself that he was not yet so mean as the enemy alien who having gained all in this fair land has yet turned against it; nor the political pacifist, especially in the halls of our senate and house of representatives.

The orchestra then stood to a man and played "Star Spangled Banner," the cue to assemblage rising in honor of our national anthem.

Another splendid recitation was admirably given by Florence Stone, of School No. 3, whose subject, "To America," was a plea for the reunited on our school histories to coincide with the present times, doing away with the old spirit of hatred of Great Britain and instead putting forth the present glory of our union with all the allied nations now fighting for the real and lasting peace of the world.

The last recitation was especially thrilling and appropriate to the times. It was entitled "The Presentation of the Flags," and was given with spirit and understanding by Dorothy D. Kennedy, of School No. 8, who made a very realistic presentation of first, our own Stars and Stripes, then the flags of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and France.

The afternoon's program closed with words of congratulation and wise and kindly advice from Superintendent M. J. Michael and H. H. Flemming, president of the board of education, who presented the certificates of graduation to the representative of each class, to be by them distributed to the class members.

ANTI-LOAFING LAW.

Local Boards Instructed to Carefully Consider Circumstances.

Local Boards for Division No. 1 and 2 of Ulster county received this morning from the adjutant general's office a bulletin asking the boards to consider the various circumstances in the cases of enforcing the anti-loafing law which goes into effect the first of July. The bulletin says that in many instances it requires time to make a change from one position to another and unnecessary hardships must not be worked upon the registrant. This is especially true when the man is occupying what may be termed a respectable position, in other words a position which in peace time is useful in the business world but which in war times becomes non-productive, owing to the fact that it can be occupied by a woman who is not able to take a place on the firing line.

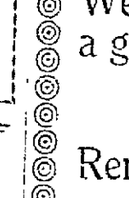
A FEW MEATLESS SOUPS.

When soup is served in the meal as a food rather than a preparation of the stomach for hearty foods is should be prepared with that end in view. Cream soups are both nourishing and palatable and may be used freely as a main dish.



Asparagus Soup. — In these days of everybody with a garden we should have our own asparagus bed; once started it will be a source of profit for years. Take a bundle of asparagus, cut off the heads and put them aside for a more delicate dish. Cover the shoots, after cutting in small pieces, with a quart of water and cook until the asparagus is tender. Rub through a colander and add this pulp with the liquor used in cooking to a pint of milk. Cook together two tablespoonfuls of corn or barley flour and two tablespoonfuls of sweet fat; stir into the soup and bring to boiling point. Serve with popcorn.

Celery Soup.—Put two tablespoonfuls of sweet fat in a saucepan, and when bubbling hot add a slice of onion; cook until brown, then add a pint of cabbage water (water saved when cooking cabbage), four carrots ground fine, all stewed gently for an hour in a tight kettle; then add two tablespoonfuls of butter.

Turnip Soup.—Put a tablespoonful of butter, one slice of onion and three slices of carrot into a saucepan and stir over the heat until the onion is yellow; then add four good-sized turnips which have been ground through the meat chopper. Cover and let simmer without water over slow heat. There should be a pint of pulp; after 20 minutes add a quart of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter blended with the same amount of flour, using barley or corn flour; a half teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet; salt and pepper to taste. Serve with croutons.

Clear Tomato Soup.—Add a pint of water to a quart of tomatoes, a slice of onion, a half a bay leaf, a dash of celery salt and a few celery tops, a teaspoonful of salt and a chopped green pepper. Cook all together 15 minutes, then bind with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and butter cooked together.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT ON TWO FIRES

An alarm of fire rung in from Box No. 35 at 1:30 o'clock this morning called the fire department to Joy's Lane where a shed in the rear of the residence of Jane C. Stoutenberg on Washington avenue was on fire. The shed with its contents was destroyed.

About 10 o'clock this morning an alarm was rung in from Box No. 112, West Shore Railroad and Flatbush avenue. The fire was in the boiler room of the woodworking shop of Buckley & Scaryver on Foxhall avenue. It was caused by a back draft which set fire to a pile of shavings. The boiler room was badly damaged and it is estimated the loss will total about $200. The fire was confined to the room in which it started.

Menu Prizes Won by H. S. Pupils.

It should be of interest to the women of the community and all those interested in the domestic science work at the high school, to know that the three young ladies who won the Chamber of Commerce prizes offered for best, most nutritious and least expensive menus, were members of the domestic science classes of the high school in charge of Miss Davis. For the benefit of those busy housewives, who have not had the benefit of a high school domestic science course and whose dictionaries, like that of The Freeman reporter, do not deal with culinary specialties, it should be stated that "croutons," mentioned in two out of the three menu winning prizes, are nothing more than crusts, especially of toasted buttered bread, cut into small ubes and used with soup in the place of crackers.

No Royal Road to Old Age.

Unhappily there is no agreement on the recipe for living to a ripe old age, although every centenarian believes he has the secret. The fact is, there is a good deal of luck about it. Of course everybody knows that the person who starts in with a good physique and lives happily and temperately and usefully has the advantage over the person who inherits a weak body and doesn't take care of himself. But even among those who have everything in their favor many fail to reach the four score years of the psalmist.

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE IS NOT PARTISAN

Also it Refused to Mix With the Disloyal Western Organization or With the Federation of Agriculture Politicians.

The Dairymen's League has sent out another in the series of statements it is making about the Federation of Agriculture, the political job-chasing organization formed in this state recently for the purpose of stirring up discontent. In its latest statements the League says:

Last week we announced that we would state the reasons why the Dairymen's League, the State Grange, and other large organizations of farmers had repudiated the so-called Federation of Agriculture. The Rural New Yorker, of which John J. Dillon is publisher, criticized them for this, and suggested that the leaders of these different farm organizations feared that another would be created that they could not control.

The absurdity of this is obvious. The so-called Federation of Agriculture is distinctly a political party.

The board of directors of the League have insisted that they have no right to commit their members to the support of any political party. Our membership, as well as our bord of directors is composed of men of all parties. The League is a great business organization. To permit itself to be committed to any political party, old or new, would mean shipwreck. The members of the League should and must be left at absolute liberty to join or refuse to join any political party, and they would have a just right to resent an attempt on the part of their officers to prevent this.

Non-Partisan League Invited Here.

The stockholders at their annual meeting last December, having refused to endorse the so-called Non-Partisan League, a conference was called a few day later to which was invited Mr. Townley of Minnesota, president of the Non-Partisan League. Officers of the League were invited and this was an effort to again commit the League to this new political party.

The Non-Partisan League has been denounced as disloyal. So objectionable has it become to the farmers in Minnesota that last week at the primaries it was overwhelmingly defeated. We quote the headline of an article appearing in the New York World of Sunday June 23rd:

"LOYAL MINNESOTA SWEEPS TOWNLEY'S LEAGUE TO DEFEAT Non-Partisan Party, Exposed Last Winter by the World, Fails in Effort to Carry Out Its Anti-War Aims. In Sympathy With I. W. W.; Against Draft and Loans. Leader Attempted to Gain Recruits Here."

The Dairymen's League and the State Grange refusing to commit themselves to this propaganda, it fell flat. It is only just to state that the gentlemen who sought to establish the Non-Partisan League here had no knowledge of its disloyal activities.

It was, however only the resolute stand taken by the Dairymen's League and the State Grange that prevented its introduction into the state.

Some other method of creating a new political party was then sought and attention was directed to the so-called Federation of Agriculture. Control of it was soon obtained and its open methods and policies changed from what it was at first proposed to be, namely a federation of agricultural associations of the state, into a political party. They print a form of constitution and by-laws that read innocent enough; their entire activities are, however, political. They print in italics the statement that

"no officer of the Federation shall hold any state office."

This is so transparent that it should deceive no one. The real dictators of it are not its officers. In passing it may be noticed that although Mr. Dillon is one of its leaders, his name does not appear on its list of officers as published, and he is therefore at liberty to accept any nomination.

League Members Are Free Men.

The officers of the League, as at present constituted, will forever stand for liberty of each one of their members to join any political party they desire. Their organization has no authority to deliver them to any political party, and neither Mr. Dillon nor anyone else has a right to criticize the League, the State Grange, and other large organizations of farmers for refusing to join such a movement. Our members would have a just right to rebuke their officers should they attempt to do this.

The result of the attempts of the League to obtain legislation at Albany at the last session of the legislature shows that this organization is strong in that it refuses to commit itself to any party, but holds its entire weight of influence ready to be hurled against any man or measure that is opposing good government, and in favor of any man or measure that stands for the industrial freedom of its members.

Whatever, therefore, may be the conscious purpose of Mr. Dillon and his associates in attempting to commit the farm organization of the state to a political party, its effect would be disastrous. Every farm organization that has ever attempted this has gone down to ruin.

Because the officers of the Dairymen's League have refused to thus betray their constituents is one of the reasons for the attacks made by Mr. Dillon upon the League.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, June 27.—Plans are all perfected for the Independence Day celebration to be held on the lawn of the Cottekill Reformed Church on July 4th, unless stormy, then on the next fair afternoon and evening. At 3 p. m. a ball game, which will be worth witnessing, will be played between the men of the church and the Boy Scouts of this place. At 6 p. m. a first class supper will be served. On account of the increased cost of eatables the price will be 40 cents to adults and 25 cents to children under 12 years of age. The quality of suppers served on these occasions are so well known that it is not necessary to comment on them. At 8:15 p. m. a free entertainment will be given in the church consisting of songs, solos, duets, recitations etc., also an address by the pastor of the church, the Rev. C. N. Stevens. Do not fail to attend this entertainment. A silver offering will be taken at the close of the entertainment. A full line of refreshments will be on sale, both afternoon and evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all, especially auto parties, as free parking room for cars will be in abundance. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Beneficial Shorebirds.

All the shorebirds are strikingly beneficial in their food habits. The slaughter of these game birds deprives the farmer of valuable allies against some of the worst crop pests. Such game birds as quail, grouse and pheasant take less insect food than the shorebirds, yet all of them do a certain amount of good. Even hawks and owls have a bad name which for the most part is undeserved, it is said, and indiscriminate persecution of these birds is a serious mistake.
